Wagner Supporters Are Booming His Candidacy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Robert F. Wagner rested in California today as supporters rolled the pebbles they hoped would rumble into his landslide selection as the Democratic candidate in New York State for the U. S. Senate.

Meanwhile, two avowed candidates for the job worked at convincing Democrats Upstate that they could beat anybody the Republicans ran for the seat now held by the GOP's Irving M. Ives.

Area Brick Production To Get Boost

An increase in public housing construction in New York City is expected to boost area brick production in the fall, a spokesman for the industry said today.

New York business has "fallen off" within the last year, but that from other areas has been about normal, he said. Business generally, other than that from New York, has been about the same as in 1957.

Public housing projects in the metropolitan area have been heavy users of brick of the type produced in the Hudson Valley yards, and any building slump there is felt in the area yards.

Information from one source today indicated that an uptrend in public housing projects in the metropolitan area is expected to start in September and October.

A spokesman for the Star Brick Corp., Goldrick's Landing, also operator of the Terry plant, today reported production about normal. The yard has 140 employees. The Hutton Co., North Street, Kingston, employs 70.

The East Kingston Brick Co., Inc., East Kingston, which had combined operation of the former Brigham and Shults yards, has not operated since 1956. It became known recently again as the Brigham Brick Corp. The Staples yard at Malden-on-Hudson has not operated this year.

Among larger brick manufacturers in the Hudson Valley area is the Jova Brick Works, in the Newburgh section, and Sutton & Suderley, Coeymans.

Suspend Licenses of 7 Area Taverns On August 11 for Sales to Minors

Licenses of seven area taverns will be suspended beginning August 11, it was announced today by the New York office of the New York State Liquor Authority, for sale of alcoholic beverages to a minor.

Four of the suspensions arise out of the sale of alcoholic beverages last December to Craig Spence, who accompanied by the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the Old Dutch Church, Kingston, made a tour of the area to substantiate wide-spread allegations that minors were being served at numerous Ulster County taverns in violation of the Alcoholic Beverage Law.

Suspended for seven days because of Robert Teetsel, proprietor of The Barn, RD 2, Kingston, on Route 28. Teetsel is under Ulster County grand jury indictment for violation of the ABC law. His case is still pending in County Court where a motion in relation to the indictment remains undecided. Teetsel, who was not present at the time of the alleged sale, contends that he cannot be held criminally responsible for an act which was committed in his absence. His bartender, George Norton, was also indicted.

Rumblings Are Louder
The rumblings for Wagner grew louder this week after several top leaders in the state labor movement.

Letter Is Sent Allen By Council

Message Stresses Courage in Vote

The Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters has urged State Commissioner of Education James E. Allen Jr. to exercise his "legal and moral right and approve the consolidation of the schools in the Kingston area as soon as possible."

The letter to Allen, signed by George E. Yerry Jr., president and general agent of the council, stated that the Kingston Board of Education had shown "great courage in voting for school consolidation, thereby exercising their legal right to approve consolidation."

Cites Partisan Angle
Yerry said that opposition to consolidation had come from various sources, such as those who "desired to retain the partisan political privilege of appointing members to the board."

"Other opposition," he wrote, "came from those advocating parochial schools versus public schools. Still others who opposed consolidation because they did not like the choice of proposed building sites for badly needed educational facilities. Others opposed it because they believed the areas surrounding Kingston would soon control the school system, something like the principle of the tail wagging the dog. There were other personal reasons expressed by the opposition to consolidation."

Text of Letter
Yerry's letter:

"The merits of school consolidation in the Kingston area have been overshadowed by the activities of those who are opposed to the membership of the present Kingston Board of Education. Some of those who are opposed to the present board of education have publicly requested the resignation or removal of seven of its nine members."

"They accuse the board of a lack of morality and a very bad sense of judgment. We wish to agree with the opposition on the issue of bad judgment but not for the same reason. In our opinion, publicly stated before the referendum, the bad judgment occurred in their being high-pressured into submitting the issue to an informal referendum."

Lists Reasons
"The opposition to consolidation came from various sources, such as those who desired to retain the partisan political privilege of appointing members to the board. Other opposition came from those advocating parochial schools versus public schools. Still others opposed consolidation because they did not like the choice of proposed building sites for badly needed educational facilities. Others opposed it because they believed the areas surrounding Kingston would soon control the school system, something like the principle of the tail wagging the dog. There were other personal reasons expressed by the opposition to consolidation."

"The first objection mentioned in the preceding paragraph that of political patronage, should have appealed to those opposing consolidation since they now state that nothing should be done without submitting the issue to a referendum. The second one, that of parochial schools, never can be settled by a referendum. It has been an issue for ages and will probably continue to be one. Our council believes

New Postal Rates Effective Friday

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk today issued a "last-minute" reminder that new postage rates are effective tomorrow.

Regular first-class letters will require four cents an ounce, air mail letters seven cents; air-mail post cards five, and regular cards three cents. Old cards may be used with added stamps. Cards and stamped envelopes are "in good supply."

Urges Legion Ask More Facilities For Delinquents

Twenty-eight delegates from Ulster County American Legion posts were among 12,000 Legionnaires at the 40th annual convention of the Department of New York in New York City who today heard Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz urge the veterans' organization to keep fighting for more facilities for handling juvenile delinquents.

Delegates from Ulster County attending the convention include: County Commander Edgar M. Maurer; Adjutant Chester W. Barth; Commander George Knute Beichert, Town of Esopus Post 1298; Joseph Martarano, Town of Lloyd Post 193; Frank Altieri, Marbletown Post 1512; Benjamin Bragg and Dominic Martarano, Lloyd Post; Everett Coty, Cook-Taylor Post 111; William Polk, Woodstock Post 1026.

George Flockhart, Rose-Sheehy Post 1034; Commander Jules Albertini, Kingston Post 150; Joseph Cassano, Sullivan-Post 176; Peter Williams and Edward Underhill, Lamoree-Hackett Post 72, Saugerties.

Alternates Attending
Alternates include: Chester Gaede, Woodstock Post 1026; Robert Van Gaasbeck, John Janakis, Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, Meyer Kaplan and Thomas Bohan, Kingston Post 150; Robert Russo, Lloyd Post 193; Edgar M. Ward and Milton G. Tsitsera, Town of Esopus Post 1298; Hargreaves, and Edward Church, Cook-Taylor Post 111; J. Arnold Lipsett, Rose-Sheehy Post 1034; Joseph Rizzo, Lloyd Post; and Joseph Hasbrouck, Sullivan-Shafer Post 176.

In an address prepared for the convention, Lefkowitz said:

"I urge upon this convention that it exert its powerful voice in calling for genuine and immediate action to remedy this disgraceful situation."

'Shameful Position'
"This inadequacy of existing facilities, Lefkowitz said, forces us into the shameful position where we can do no more for the youngster who is brought into court than to parole him into the custody of his parents who have already proven unable to curb his lawless behavior."

"Unless this condition is remedied quickly and effectively, we are fostering a revolving door process from which, after a few spins, the young hoodlum emerges as a hardened criminal."

About 12,000 Legionnaires and members of their families are here for the convention.

Led by 57 bands, 6,000 members of the Legion will join units of the armed forces in a parade tomorrow night down 5th Avenue.

SHEHAB TAKES OVER—A poll in parliament, 48-7, today favored Gen. Faud Shehab (left) as president of Lebanon over Raymond Edde, his only rival. At right is Camille Chamoun whose resignation was demanded by the meeting in parliament, also withdrawal of U. S. troops from the country. Prime Minister Sami Solh (rear with fez) boycotted the election which he denounced as unconstitutional, saying it was held in atmosphere of terror and pressure. Solh narrowly escaped death July 29 in the explosion of bombs planted along route of his auto cortege. Trio is shown at Beirut gathering last month. (AP Wirephoto).

McMurray Warns About New Slums

NEW YORK (AP)—State Housing Commissioner Joseph P. McMurray says many cities and villages that are trying to eliminate slums are failing to prevent other parts of their communities from deteriorating into new slums.

McMurray says there is "urgent need for expanded state leadership to aid all communities in conserving and rehabilitating their predominantly older housing."

Nearly 44 per cent of the urban housing and non-farm rural housing in the state, exclusive of New York City, was built before 1919, the commissioner adds.

McMurray sent Gov. Harriman Wednesday three volumes of findings in a two-year, statewide study of housing and building codes and communities lacking them.

He cited shortcomings among the state's 1,600 cities and villages. McMurray said adoption and enforcement of housing codes "is the basic and fundamental weapon in the vital 'housekeeping' function of preventing blight and decay."

The survey showed "very few regulations applicable to existing housing other than state mandatory laws," and almost no enforcement except on the basis of complaints.

Compromise Says U.S. Troops Go

Shehab New President By Overwhelming Vote

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Gen. Faud Shehab was elected president today with the strong backing of the opposition National Front and over the bitter protests of Premier Sami Solh.

A compromise choice to end the long rebellion against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun, the 56-year-old army commander in chief was elected on Parliament's second ballot.

Shehab got a whopping 48 votes to 7 for his only rival, Raymond Edde. One ballot was blank.

Rebels Applaud
Rebel leaders applauded Shehab's election. Solh boycotted the meeting in Parliament. Solh denounced the election as unconstitutional and declared it was held in an atmosphere of terror and pressure.

Just before Parliament met, a National Front deputy, Nessim Majdalani, told newsmen that his group had met with Shehab Wednesday and the general had agreed to their conditions.

These conditions include the immediate resignation of Chamoun, immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops, and sweeping civil service reforms.

Remains Secluded
Shehab remained secluded and it could not be determined how far he would go toward pressing the National Front demands.

Several deputies predicted Chamoun will resign soon, clearing the way for Shehab to take office. Chamoun's six-year term ends Sept. 23. Rebels opposed to his pro-Western course have been demanding he resign now.

This in itself would not clear the way for a U.S. troop withdrawal which depends on re-establishment of internal security and a U.N. guarantee of Lebanese independence, a U.S. Embassy spokesman has said.

Won't Solve Strife
Shehab's election will not automatically solve the strife which in 83 days has brought this Riviera of the Middle East to the brink of economic ruin and resulted in the landing of 10,000 U. S. troops in Beirut.

But observers felt the general's taking control could provide a breathing spell during which peace and order might be restored. There was an atmosphere of hope and expectancy among the Lebanese people, who have lived amid intermittent bombing and shooting for almost three months.

Hearings Begin On Rackets and Labor Extortion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rackets investigating committee set out today to back up its allegations that a crooked combine of gangsters and unionists is extorting huge sums from businessmen and workers across the nation.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy estimates the take a million dollars a year in tribute from businesses alone, plus fat profits secretly milked out of union funds by officials in league with the underworld.

Calls Witness
Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) summoned witnesses from Chicago and Detroit to launch this new phase of the public hearings.

Two of them, he said, will testify under threat of reprisal from gangland. He declined to name them in advance.

McClellan named the Teamsters Union and its international president, James R. Hoffa, as pivotal figures in the inquiry.

The committee, after stormy clashes with Hoffa on the witness stand last year, formally denounced him as a consort of gangsters who misused the treasuries and rights of his own union members to enhance his power.

Kennedy said Hoffa would be questioned some time next week about alleged labor rackets in a dozen or more cities "from New York to California and down to Florida."

Explores Teamsters
In advance of the hearing, McClellan said in a prepared statement he would explore "the part played by certain key officials" of (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Would Go Anywhere For Talk

Hopes Khrushchev To Be There Too

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan announced today he is calling for a special meeting of the United Nations Security Council to take place Aug. 12 and that he personally will attend it. Macmillan told the House of Commons he has advised Soviet Premier Khrushchev New York, Geneva or any other place generally agreeable will do as the site for the special conference on the Middle East crisis.

Reads Message
He read a text of a message which he has had delivered to Khrushchev today. "I hope you will be there too," it said.

"I am now instructing the United Kingdom permanent representative to propose to the president of the Security Council a special meeting to take place under Article 28 (of the U.N. charter) on Aug. 12."

Would Make Decisions
"Meanwhile, the permanent representatives should discuss arrangements for the special meeting and decide where it will take place."

"I have no reason to suppose that the President of the United States would not be willing to go either to Geneva or New York," Macmillan said.

Macmillan then added in his note to Khrushchev that agreement on these arrangements for the meeting would find him attending the conference on Aug. 12.

Would Be Less Formal
Macmillan told Khrushchev the conference he had in mind certainly would allow "less formal meetings of heads of government" to be arranged, in addition to the sessions of the whole 11-nation Council.

This offer indicated he was meeting Khrushchev's expressed desire for informal, face-to-face meetings of the government chiefs of the big powers along the sidelines of the Security Council conference.

"The procedure would thus be flexible and should promote the chances of making progress," he said.

Dismisses Charges
Macmillan dismissed, almost contemptuously, charges Khrushchev made in his letter last Monday that the British and the Americans were trying to maneuver out of the projected conference.

The Soviet leader also repeated accusations that the Americans and British were guilty of aggression in the Middle East and planning new ventures.

"I will not reply to its (the letter's) many accusations against Allied policy in the Middle East," Macmillan said.

No Foundation, He Says
"None of these has any foundation in fact."

Article 28 of the U.N. Charter, to which Macmillan referred, is the one which permits high-level attendance at security council meetings.

In Paris, earlier, three meetings of the 15-nation Western Alliance had failed to iron out differences among Britain, France and the United States over acceptance of a Soviet bid to a summit conference.

Test Pilot Happy as He Spins On in Lab Cockpit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Test pilot Al Blackburn sits strapped in the tiny cockpit, a jaunty smile on his tanned face.

He is one of the first fliers to volunteer for a test that duplicates the same pressures he'd feel in a three-stage rocket accelerating to 18,000 m.p.h.

His cockpit is in a laboratory at the University of Southern California Medical School, in a centrifuge — a machine whose 24-foot-long arm spins the pilot fast enough to match the pressures of rocket flight.

The experiment conducted Wednesday, is to test human reaction — both mental and physical — to rocket flight pressures.

Blackburn still smiles as the machine spins slowly in a circle. The grin is strained, however, as the pressure mounts to 3 G's, which means his normal 165-pound weight is, in effect, nearly 500 pounds. The smile vanishes at 5 G's.

A camera mounted on the whirling cockpit monitors Blackburn's reactions. As the pressure increases, his shoulders are squashed backward, his lips purse and his prematurely white hair stands straight up. He has great difficulty activating testing controls.

At 8 G's — when he weighs the equivalent of 1,320 pounds — his mouth opens in a silent gasp as he struggles to breathe. He can't breathe at all in the last seconds of the 350-second flight.

Then it's over. The theoretical space ship is in orbit.

The tests are part of an Air Force project to come up with answers on what effect the pressures of space flight will have on humans.

Is Blackburn ready? "He could go into orbit tomorrow," the centrifuge staff says.

House Bill Passes

HST, Hoover, Ike Eligible in '61 For Pension Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover, and President Eisenhower in 1961, are almost certain to be eligible for pensions of $25,000 annually.

They might even get free office space, free postage on up to 4,000 letters monthly, and a government-paid office staff.

The presidential pensions — and $10,000 yearly payments to widows of former presidents — were all but assured Wednesday when the House passed 165-45, a Senate-approved bill.

It agreed on the pensions but balked on the free office space, free office staff and free mail privileges voted by the Senate.

Advisory Engineer Is Named at IBM Plant

International Business Machines Corporation today announced the appointment of Herbert Guy Hickey as advisory engineer in advanced systems research for the company's Military Products Division.

Assigned to the IBM group at the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory, Buffalo, Hickey, who joined IBM in June, 1953, was assigned to SAGE computer and advanced systems design at Poughkeepsie until April, 1957, when he was transferred to the IBM Kingston systems office at Lexington, Mass., where he served in advanced weapons integration work until the current appointment.

Hickey attended Lycoming College and earned a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at the University of Pittsburgh. A member of the Institute of Radio Engineers, National Geographic Society and Eta Kappa Nu and Sigma Tau honor societies, he has completed courses in the IBM-Syracuse University Graduate Program at Poughkeepsie.

Hickey, his wife, Georgia, and children, Deborah 9, Kenneth 3, and Mark 1 month, reside at 421 Claremont Avenue, Buffalo.

1950 Car Models Must Get Safety Check in August

All owners of 1950 model motor vehicles must have their cars safety checked during August. Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly reminded motorists today. Only the 1950 vehicles which have passed inspection this month (July) need not be inspected in August.

Commissioner Kelly also noted that many motorists have been negligent in having their cars repaired and a sticker obtained within ten days of a rejection. With the result that the Bureau has had to suspend registrations and plates.

In addition to the suspension, these owners as well as those who fail to have their vehicles inspected on time, are subject to charges of a traffic violation if they are detected operating the vehicles on the highways.

MENTAL DISEASE PICTURE—Newsmap above shows the geographic variation in number of mental patients in state, county and Veterans Administration hospitals throughout the U.S. New York outranks every other state. Its rate was 648 per 100,000 population. At the other end of the scale are New Mexico and Arizona, only about one quarter of the New York rate. Variations are accounted for partly by differences in the age and sex composition of the populations, but mainly by differences in the availability of hospital facilities. In 1956 and 1957 there were decreases in the number of resident patients, although the number of admissions continued to increase. This indicated that more patients, though not cured, were spending more time out of hospitals. Data from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—It could be that the Republican state ticket won't be big enough to hold both Nelson A. Rockefeller and Leonard W. Hall.

At one time it was thought that, if either won the nomination for governor, the other could be expected to run for the U. S. Senate.

True, both denied any interest in the Senate seat, but this was considered the only appropriate attitude they could take publicly. You don't admit in advance that you would settle for second place.

Through his recent actions, however, Hall gives evidence that he means just what he says—that it's all or nothing with him.

He has done so through a series of biting attacks on the front-running Rockefeller.

Not Unusual Practice
In the unwritten rules of political campaigning, you just don't blast a rival the way Hall has been hitting Rockefeller and expect to run with him—or he with you—on the same ticket later.

Sometimes, maybe, but not usually. Hall's attacks on Rockefeller increased in their frequency and bitterness as Hall steadily lost ground to Rockefeller in the contest for delegate support at the GOP state convention.

First, he declared the youthful Rockefeller, if nominated, would be a "weak campaigner" instead of the rock-'em, sock-'em candidate the party needed.

Later, Hall, a former national chairman, called Rockefeller a candidate "under glass"—a man who has not expressed his opinion on anything. He challenged him to a public debating tour.

Crowning Blow
The crowning blow, perhaps, was Hall's reference to Rockefeller as an "imitation Harriman."

This, after he and other Republicans have been calling Democratic Gov. Harriman just about everything in the book.

Generally speaking, the axiom that "all's fair in politics" holds true. But there are certain recognized distinctions between campaigning against a colleague and against a member of the opposing party.

In competing for a nomination, you criticize a rival, yes. You differ with him on points of policy, yes. You point up your own virtues, yes.

But, in the interests of party harmony and the bigger battle to come, you don't call him a weakling. And, if you want to run with him later, you don't liken him to the common enemy.

In short, you don't pass the political point of no return.

Opposition Taking Notes
For one thing, the fellows in the other party are watching and listening. It can be mighty embarrassing to hear your own words coming back at you later.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, a Rockefeller booster, had this in mind Monday when he declared pointedly:

"I don't believe Republicans should criticize Republicans when there are such vulnerable targets as Mr. Harriman and (Tammany Hall Leader) Carmine DeSapio available."

For another thing, politicians, like just plain people, can be vindictive.

Depending upon the personalities involved, the point of no return can be a short or long distance from home base. Many a hot political feud has been dismissed later as a "heat of battle" thing. Many have not.

So far, Rockefeller, at least publicly, has been turning the other cheek. What he is thinking may be another matter.

"I am ready to fight the present incumbent for the governorship," he says, "but I am not ready to fight another Republican at this time."

Last year it took an estimated 75 million trees to produce the newspaper for newspaper advertising space alone in the U. S.

More Americans Demand Education

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—More Americans than ever before are demanding some kind of education, and fear is an important reason, a leading educator said today.

Dr. Herman L. Shiber, general superintendent of schools in Indianapolis, Ind., said this tremendous demand for education, the boom in babies and rapid changes in knowledge posed severe problems for the nation's overcrowded schools.

Shiber's remarks were prepared for the closing session of the fifth annual work conference for school administrators. About 125 administrators from New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio attended the sessions, at Cornell University.

Before the Russians' Sputnik, Shiber said, Americans took education casually, "as something nice to have but not as important as making the almighty dollar."

He added: "If education is the weapon that we must use for our very survival, then we must become more concerned and aware of its power than ever before."

"It is disappointing to realize that fear is partially the motivating force that must provide better education for the youth of our land."

Shiber said a "rock 'n' roll, cafeteria-type educational program" would be left far behind in the race to meet the nation's needs.

Lives of Two Are Spared by Governor

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Harriman has spared the lives of two young Negroes who, police said, stood guard across the street while a Queens delicatessen owner was slain in a holdup.

He took no action in the cases of their two companions, accused of the shooting.

Harriman acted promptly after both the prosecutor and defense attorneys urged at a clemency hearing Wednesday that the lives of Thomas Frye, 20, and William Wynn, 17, be spared.

The governor ordered their death sentences commuted to life imprisonment.

The other two, also Negroes, are Ralph Dawkins, 22, and Jackson Turner, 21. Police said Dawkins fired the shot that killed William Bozer, 61, in his store last Sept. 6.

Dawkins and Turner may yet win clemency, despite Harriman's silence on their pleas. The governor's custom is to make no announcement unless clemency is granted. He could make such an announcement later.

Frye and Wynn were scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison the night of Aug. 14. The same date still holds for Dawkins and Turner.

All four live in South Jamaica.

Matter of FACT

In 1860, the pony express service was established between St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento, Calif., covering the distance in eight days. The pony express was a private enterprise, employing 80 men. The riders, all 18 to 20 years of age, rode not less than 30 miles a day. The pony express was an important institution for over a year, until late in 1861, when the telegraph line went through to California.

State Architect Lists New Dates to Get Bids

John W. Johnson, state superintendent of Public Works, today announced that beginning with the first week in September, the day for receipt of bids for all projects under supervision of State Architect Carl W. Larson will be changed from Thursday to Wednesday.

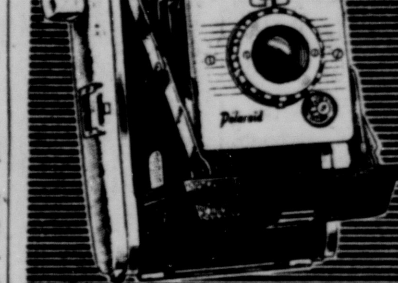

At the present time bids are received for both highways and buildings on the same day, Thursday. The change will assist those contractors who are interested in bidding on different phases of the state's construction program. It will also ease the letting day burden of Public Works personnel.

It is anticipated that the separation of highway and building bid days will be of benefit to the press as well. The scheduling of building lettings on Wednesdays will make it possible for weekly papers throughout the State to carry timely articles concerning building projects in their areas.

The new schedule will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 3rd, at 2 p. m.

It would take a 204-page 6" x 9" book to equal the total content of the average U. S. newspaper.

MAKE SUMMIT TALKS COUNT

The agreement among the major East-West powers to hold a summit meeting within the United Nations fold sets a number of precedents that are bound to arouse and excite the world. But it would be unwise to promise that great achievements toward peace will flow from this conference.

It will, of course, be the first gathering of heads of state of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union placed within the UN framework instead of above and beyond it.

And it will be the first time in the history of Russian communism that a Soviet premier, in this instance Nikita Khrushchev, has set foot in the United States for any purpose whatsoever. Security officials and news photographers probably will put this down as a high-water mark.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles did not want this meeting. They are firmly convinced, on the basis of the record of past summit sessions, that they accomplish little.

Normally the heads of state, for all their supreme power, deal only in vague generalities and surface sociabilities. They thus often tend to stir widespread hopes of real achievement which are dashed when the diplomatic technicians get down to hard business.

That explains why America has been so insistent on advance preparation for such a conference at the foreign minister level. Russia only recently sabotaged preparatory efforts of this sort in London.

Russia's interest is obvious: It wants a big show in which it can pose as the great peacemaker, act the big brother, agree to nothing substantial and go home blaming the West for the meeting's fundamental failures. To Moscow, therefore, preparation is unimportant.

The Middle Eastern crisis gave Khrushchev a fresh opportunity to press for the kind of meeting he desires rather than accept our plan of proper preparation. Shrewdly he recognized that we would be hard put to refuse in the current critical atmosphere.

It is bad enough that we have so often to resist his "peace" offers in more normal times. Too many of the world's people do not understand the fraud. But the Middle East is too tense to allow us an easy "no."

Credit Britain with devising the counterproposal to hold the session within UN auspices. This takes some of the initiative away from Russia and gives the meeting the look of a sort of high level supplement to regular UN deliberations on the Middle Eastern situation.

Since the summit session is now scheduled, the West plainly must approach it positively with an eye to cutting away Soviet propaganda advantage and converting it to the uses of free men.

We surely can scotch what Mr. Eisenhower called Russia's "exaggerated fear" of a general war growing out of the Middle East dilemma. There will be such a war only if the Kremlin wants it.

We ought to be able to go far toward exposing the fraud in Russia's endless posturing for peace and its preposterous presumption in donning the attire of world policeman.

How dare the butchers of Hungarian freedom talk of "aggression" by others?

Maybe we can even come up with a sensible plan for the Middle East's future which will embarrass the phony schemes brewing in Moscow. Surely we should try.

CURB ON SWITCHBLADES

Congress apparently is going to do its best to keep switchblade knives out of the hands of juvenile delinquents. A measure to ban their shipment across state lines or their manufacture for interstate trade has been passed by the House, and Senate passage of a similar bill appears likely.

A law of this kind would be wise. Switchblades are not in themselves criminal, but they figure in many crimes. Though a law

'These Days'

WHY BLAME IKE?

K. Ziliacus, Left-Wing member of the British Parliament gives to historic events a twist of logic which, as used to be said, "takes the cake." He, in effect, blames President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan for the murder of Imre Nagy, the Hungarian martyr to Soviet tyranny. This first paragraph in a long letter to the editor of the "Manchester Guardian" from Ziliacus explains all:

"The moral iniquity and political imbecility of the murders of Nagy and his associates, aggravated by treachery and mendacity, do not warrant the conclusion that the Soviet Government is not in earnest about a summit conference. It would be nearer the truth say that these things have happened mainly because the Soviet leaders have convinced themselves that the American and British Governments do not want a summit conference."

It is difficult to believe that the Soviet leaders are as infantile in their piques as Ziliacus pretends. They are grown men and have been around a long time.

They know that they are engaged in an imperialistic process and that they have thus far done remarkably well. They also know that the principal impediment to an even greater success has been the United States which in a slow, chaotic, talky sort of way has managed from time to time to place impediments in their path. Sometimes, these impediments have been in the wrong place, actually giving them cover for something nefarious, as when the Berlin Airlift was used as a cover for the biggest steal of all, the conquest of China.

Naturally, after the last one at Geneva, the heads of Western states are not anxious to attend a summit conference with Nikita Khrushchev. In the first place nothing is accomplished. An enormous amount of time is wasted, while Khrushchev plays the role of an ill-mannered buffoon. At Geneva, it may be recalled, he showed up in Bulganin's train, somewhat unexpectedly. He was then officially not a part of the Russian government but as head of the Party, he was the effective master.

He immediately took over and entered upon one of his publicity sprees, which reminded one of the Ziegfeld stunt of having Anna Held take baths in milk with reporters alerted to write about it. (I think it was Anna Held.) As a publicity hunter, Eisenhower is no match for Khrushchev. Eisenhower is a rather dignified extrovert who is accustomed to talking to gentlemen and who would have cashiered Khrushchev had he been under his command.

Of course, for the sake of peace, it may be necessary to meet with all sorts of rascals, but then one must have a belief that something constructive can be accomplished by such a meeting. Had Khrushchev not tried to ring in Nehru and Nasser and a bunch of Arabs in what is to be a summit conference, one might have believed in his sincerity, but his proposals thus far would indicate that in his mind the whole thing is a joke. One can imagine the conversation going like this:

K. "Like, why the devil don't you get out of Lebanon? We'll bury you if you don't, because historical inevitability is on our side. You can't win, so why not collapse?"

E. "I want to say..."

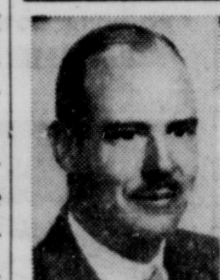

K. "As Karl Marx said, every epoch has its own characteristics. You small peoples of Western Europe and America had your day and your fun and it's over. It must be over because Karl Marx said so. Also Lenin said so. Therefore stop playing with atom bombs and hydrogen bombs. We've got more than you have and bigger ones."

E. "Then why are you against U.N. control and inspection?"

K. "What for? We don't have to monkey around with the U.N. Look how Dag Hammarskjöld was afraid to go into Hungary. It made me laugh. If the U.N. gets funny, we'll get out and we'll take half the world with us. They have 81 nations. How many do you think they'll have when we get out? Do you think that jelly-fish, Nehru, will stay with the U.N.? Do you think that bronze giant, Nasser, will stay? Don't kid yourself, Ike, we've got the votes and we've got the power and we'll do as we please!"

E. "Do you suppose President Eisenhower or anybody else wants to listen to that intellectual garbage for any length of time?"

Finding Allergy Cause Is

Vital in Asthma Treatment

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. G. has written that her 4-year-old son is terribly troubled with asthma. Mrs. C. F. says that her husband has suffered with the same condition since 1930.

These letters reflect the frequency of this most troublesome disorder and the fact that asthma is not restricted to any age group, nor indeed to either sex.

Few things are more distressing to see than an attack of acute asthma. The victim struggles for breath, coughs and wheezes and sometimes gets blue around the lips.

All this is the result of narrowing of the breathing passageways to the lungs—the bronchial tubes—and of the accumulation of mucus in them. Not enough air gets through and the body has to start working to try to remedy the situation.

Asthma is primarily an allergic disease. That is, it is caused by oversensitiveness to some outside protein with which the body comes in contact. Apparently there are other factors which sometimes enter into the picture, such as chronic infection and fatigue. But it is the outside proteins which are the most important.

This being the case, the most important thing to do in asthma is to identify the particular substance that is causing the trouble.

This is attempted in many ways. Analyzing the relations between the symptoms and contact with various pollens, foods or other proteins; skin tests with protein extracts; and by other methods.

The best results, so far as treatment is concerned, occur when the offending substance can be definitely discovered. The patient can then be separated from the cause, or treated for it, and the chances of improvement are good.

Unfortunately, in some cases it is hard, or impossible, to find the cause. Even for these people, however, much can usually be done by appropriate drugs or other measures.

Although it is only in relatively recent times that we have learned so much about allergy, asthma is known to have existed for centuries. The name itself (meaning hard-breathing) was used by Hippocrates, the father of medicine, nearly 400 years before the birth of Christ. A lot more can be done today for the sufferer than in Hippocrates' times, but there is still a long way to go.

I should like to mention the excellent pamphlet called "Handbook for the Asthmatic," which is available for 25 cents from the Allergy Foundation of America (801 Second Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.).

to halt interstate sales of these deadly knives will not halt knifings, it will make it a lot harder for a young law-breaker or potential law-breaker to get his hands on one.

In the long run it usually pays to be courteous, even—perhaps especially—to people who don't appreciate it.

House Built on a Small Rock

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

After insisting that Soviet Russia had no interest and no business in the Middle East, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles now find themselves boxed into talking about it to Communist boss Khrushchev at a special United Nations Security Council meeting.

This may be just the beginning. From now on, when any Middle East problem arises, Russia will have to be consulted. Only a dedicated international Communist can see good coming from this.

To gain access to the warm water ports of the southern Eurasian land mass has been a Russian ambition since the days of the czars — long before communism.

There have been several such attempts since the end of World War 2.

First was Russia's move into northern Iran, heading for the Persian Gulf in 1946. Next came pressure against Turkey for greater control of the Bosphorus, Sea of Marmara and the Dardanelles.

Then there was the Communist uprising against Greece, for direct access to the Mediterranean.

Finally, the Communist aggression against Korea in 1950. Now there is interference in affairs of the whole Middle East.

ALL THE ECONOMIC REASONS why Soviet Russia doesn't need the Middle East are apparent. The Arab countries are primarily producers of oil — almost their only natural resource. Russia is also an oil producer. Already it has an excess capacity. It is looking for markets in which to compete with Middle East production.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

July 31, 1938 — Emanuel Metzger, local attorney, who, for many years served as president of the Nitro Powder Works, Kingston, died.

The Colonials defeated West Stockton, Mass., 3-1 behind the pitching of Toddy Uhl.

Mrs. Catherine M. Steinhilber died.

The Kaplan Furniture Company announced it had moved the store formerly occupied by the A. J. Murphy stationary business at 12 East Strand.

July 31, 1948 — Local units of Russia is not now a first-rate maritime nation. It has needed all its productive capacity for internal development. But that picture is changing.

What free nations are up against now is ambitious, expanding, international communism. It is interested in world conquest — economic and political as well as military. It will take anything it can get. This includes domination over the Middle East through support of Nasser's Arab nationalism.

SO NOW THE WESTERN POWERS — principally United States and the United Kingdom — have blundered into a situation in which they must deal with Russia on the future of the Middle East.

It is further complicated by the fact that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have urged all along that there should be no summit conference without adequate diplomatic preparation. They have now cowered themselves into a conference for which there will be no preparation.

MANY PEOPLE IN WASHINGTON and elsewhere throughout the world are trying to figure out how all this happened.

It can be traced back, as some critics have done, to the establishment of Israel in the heart of a hostile Arab world.

It may have had its beginning in America's withdrawal of support for Egypt's Aswan Dam project.

It could be laid to failing to make a partner of growing Arab nationalism and to giving too much support to decadent kingdoms instead of to democracies.

It will be attributed by some historians to too much support for dying British and French colonialism.

On the other side of that argument, American insistence on ending the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt after nationalization of the Suez Canal can be listed as one reason for failure to meet the challenge of Nasserism head-on and earlier.

The Baghdad Pact — which many U. S. career diplomats have not liked — and the Eisenhower Doctrine — which has not worked — can catch a share of the responsibility.

Finally, the wisdom of ordering American Marines into Lebanon and British paratroopers into Jordan is now being seriously questioned.

Trying to fix the blame for any or all of these developments does no particular good and is water over the dam.

The United States has now drifted over that dam in a barrel of trouble. The problem is how to get out.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Do birds, and animals talk to each other?

A—Monkeys chatter back and forth to one another, birds answer each other's songs and many animals have special calls for their young. These are only some of the ways birds and animals "talk" to each other.

Q—Is the Nile a navigable river?

A—The river is navigable for nearly its entire length of about 4,000 miles.

Q—Do all birds have feathers.

A—Yes—and no animals have them.

Q—For whom was Mount Everest named?

A—Sir George Everest, surveyor-general of India, who determined the height of the peak in 1841.

Faubus' Landslide Is Called Vote for the Constitution

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe it's a demonstration of "Arkansas nationalism" we are witnessing — though perhaps "statism" is a more fitting word — but for some reason not clearly understood in the North the people of Arkansas, by the biggest landslide in their voting history, have just assured a third term for Gov. Faubus.

Isn't this the man, it will be asked who "defied the supreme law of the land?" Don't the people of Arkansas know what the "law of the land" is, or have they come to the conclusion that maybe the "law of the land" is what the Constitution says it is and not what nine justices say it is? For the Bill of Rights in the Constitution does say that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

The people of Arkansas weighed all the arguments and decided to back the Constitution as it is written. They had listened for nearly a year to radio and television speeches of abuse and had read many articles in the press telling them they are lawless folks who don't obey the orders of the Federal courts. The Arkansas voters had protested in vain that critics in other states were oversimplifying the issue by saying that it was merely "that man Faubus" and a few zealots who were responsible for the crisis in the schools of Arkansas and that, if the present Governor were not in office, things would be different.

Tradition Broken

Now the people of Arkansas, in a free and fair election, have given their answer. They have voted by an overwhelming majority — about 70 per cent of all ballots cast — to retain Gov. Faubus. It's a break in tradition to give a third term to a Governor in Arkansas. It was, therefore, an electorate deeply stirred which three precedent aside in order to say to the rest of the states of the Union that Arkansas is now being seriously deciding for itself how it shall educate its children.

For, up to 1954, education was considered to be solely a state problem, with no right to the Federal government to assign pupils to public schools, much less to send Federal troops to police the corridors of school buildings. But, while the Supreme Court four years ago vetoed "segregation," it has not yet prescribed a formula for integration. Other states besides Arkansas are struggling with the same problem of how to retain control of their schools and yet keep them from being interfered with by the Supreme Court's edicts.

No Action by Congress
There wouldn't have been any rumpus in Arkansas or in any other Southern state if the Congress, as specifically provided in the Fourteenth Amendment, had passed a law compelling desegregation. But for the Supreme Court suddenly to turn down its own fifty-eight-year-old order for "separate but equal" facilities in the schools by terming it now a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment — especially since the court itself could not find the slightest bit of history to show that the framers of that amendment intended to take over control of educational systems of the states — is to arouse the people to demand that the "law of the land," namely, the Constitution itself, be followed. The Fourteenth Amendment stipulates that "Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article." This never has been done. The Supreme Court, moreover, isn't supposed to exercise any legislative power.

It is significant that the two candidates opposing Gov. Faubus in the Democratic primary — themselves in favor of segregation in the schools, although they differed on how the formula is to be applied.

To Encourage Others

There is no doubt that the renomination of Gov. Faubus in the Democratic primary — which is equivalent to election because there is no effective Republican party in the state — will be regarded in other Southern states as encouragement and moral support.

Every Southern state would vote on the segregation issue exactly as has Arkansas. The same American "liberals" who are so quick to recognize as legitimate the aspirations of the Arabs or the Algerians or other nationalities to autonomous rights seem to forget that even in the United States there are aspirations to self-government by units known as "the several states." When the Constitution was written, all the people were told that the states were never to be deprived of their sovereignty except under the means prescribed in the Constitution itself for amending that document.

"States' rights" have since suffered as the federal government has gradually centralized more and more economic power in Washington. But where questions of sentiment and customs are concerned, the doctrine of "states' rights" is as alive and as virile today as it was when Thomas Jefferson first taught it.

It is time for a more constructive approach to the problem of "segregation" and "integration." It's an issue that can be resolved only by patience, reason and tolerance of lengthy debate — and certainly not by bayonets.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A friend of mine had a strange experience the other night.

"I watched television for two hours," he said, "and didn't see a single horse."

This may mark a historic moment in the video industry. For come autumn, such an experience may be too impossible.

The hoofbeats of the horse opera will echo in the nation's living rooms as never before.

Two years ago there were only 11 Western series on the major networks, last year 16. But the season upcoming will have nearly two dozen—that is, if Hollywood doesn't run out of horses and blank cartridges.

Does the sight of a galloping nag now give you a kind of queasy seasick feeling? Well, there's only one way out. You turn off your TV set and turn on your radio. Then you won't have to watch a Western program — you'll just have to listen to it.

Whether Westerns are really as popular with the people as producers and sponsors seem to think is open to argument. But there is no question they have had a tremendous impact on our current culture.

More Than Alaska Cost

More money is spent in filming Westerns each year than was required to buy all of Alaska in 1867. Many of us now feel more familiar with the streets of such old Western towns of Tombstone and Dodge City than we are with the streets of our own city. Many of us feel we know Wyatt Earp and Billy the Kid better than we do our next door neighbor.

The cult of the cowboy and the gunman, like the cult of bosom-worship in America, sometimes seems to have gone beyond the boundaries of pure entertainment and to have approached the proportions of a national neurosis.

One veteran program chief gives this as the reason behind the epidemic of Westerns:

Escape Medium
"TV is an escape medium. The best kind of escape is one in which you are shocked and threatened—but not in a way that really could happen to you."

That's why Westerns succeed. You enjoy the tense feeling of watching someone walk down a street in Dodge City in 1870 to face a gunman. But one reason you enjoy it is that, basically, you know you won't have to do it yourself.

Modern plays about the loneliness and despair every man must face in living may be great art, but they are too real. Sponsors don't like them because they scare you out of your house and into the nearest bar."

To Duck Problems

This estimate of the situation is probably true. Watching Westerns is for many of us — like the ostrich's fabled custom of sticking its head in the sand — a way to keep from thinking about our own lives and problems. Problems we can understand, such as the need for meeting a mortgage payment; problems we can't understand, such as what to do in the Middle East.

Back of it all may be the wild hope that someday, somehow, Marshal Dillon or Wyatt Earp will get Nikita Khrushchev in their gunights and end all our worries.

New Uses

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (P) — A bell found in Elgin County that once belonged to a Great Lakes vessel will ring the call to worship at the Roman Catholic Church in Azua, in Santa Domingo, in America, sometimes seems to have gone beyond the boundaries of pure entertainment and to have approached the proportions of a national neurosis.

Matter of FACT

Although mummies are often thought of only in connection with Egypt, some mummies have been found in the Americas. Many of the best ones were found among the remains of the Incas of Peru. Some archaeologists feel that these are not true mummies, because the bodies do not appear to have been specially treated. But there is substantial evidence that many American mummies were treated and are true mummies.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of two of the hardest hit industries in the recession are throwing cold water today on the extreme optimism of those who see a new boom under way.

These steel and auto spokesmen are being as hard headed about this as most businessmen were about not being stampeded into panic by the recession.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, says "improvement in the latter part of this year is not going to be as rapid as some people seem to think."
Harlow H. Currier, president of General Motors, and its chairman, Albert Bradley, say cautiously "a modest upward trend has begun."

Silent on Pricing
Both companies are still silent on future pricing policies. Both have labor cost problems—steel's wage rates have gone up this month and the motor industry is in the process of negotiating a new labor contract with a wage boost probable.

Each is in a highly competitive business with that factor weighing heavily in price decisions. But each also depends greatly on how the general economy goes in the months ahead. And that uncertainty doubtless accounts for some of Blough's hesitation to announce quickly a price rise as other steel companies are starting to do.

The GM and Big Steel words of caution coincide with their earnings reports for the first half of the year — statements that measure just how hard the recession hit them — although in each case the two giants in their respective industries fared better than some of their smaller competitors.

Depends on Consumers
Both expect to do better in the remainder of the year but stress that just how much better depends upon how much consumer and business confidence revives. In the first six months U.S. Steel reports a net profit of $2.29 a share, compared with $4.07 a share in the like 1957 period. GM's first half net income was $1.17 a share, compared with $1.71 in the previous year.

The pickup in the steel business in the last two months is shown in the earnings gain in the second quarter over the first—$1.25 a share in the June quarter against $1.04 in the March period. GM had no such luck. Its second quarter earnings were 52 cents a share and its first quarter profit 65 cents.

When the pricing problems are straightened out, the earnings picture should improve in the latter part of this year. First, the comparison will be with the last half of 1957 when profits were starting to slide.

Second, business should be better, especially if the new car models click with the public—Detroit will make more cars, and profits, and order more steel.

Since 1951, newspaper run-of-paper color advertising has more than doubled in linage.

Woman Is Facing Manslaughter in Beating of Child

ONEONTA, N. Y. (AP)—A 22-year-old mother faces a first-degree manslaughter charge in the fatal beating of a 4-year-old girl placed in her care by the Otsego County Welfare Department.

Mrs. Dolores Preston of nearby Worcester has admitted lashing Sharon Rifenburg with a belt, state police said. The child died in Fox Memorial Hospital Wednesday night of a brain hemorrhage.

Troopers quoted Mrs. Preston as saying the girl was "continually soiling her undergarments and I got sick and tired of washing them."

Mrs. Preston suffered shock after learning of the child's death, her doctor said, and she was admitted to Bassett Hospital in Cooperstown.

Dist. Atty. Richard J. Bookhout said the woman would be charged with first-degree manslaughter.

Sharon was the daughter of Clinton Rifenburg of Garratsville, a farm laborer whose wife died three years ago. They had six children. Two boys are staying with him. Four girls were placed in foster homes.

Mrs. Preston, whose husband is working on the St. Lawrence Seaway project, has two sons, 1½ and 3.

Fox Hospital said Sharon suffered multiple bruises all over her body, besides the head injury. The girl underwent a 90-minute operation Wednesday morning.

State police said that Mrs. Preston admitted beating Sharon after first telling troopers that the girl had fallen from a grape arbor.

Mrs. George Fullmer, a case worker for the Otsego Welfare Department, said Rifenburg had cared for all six children until last month, when the girls were placed in foster homes. The county paid for their care.

One besides Sharon was in Mrs.

Preston's care. She was removed yesterday and placed in the home with her sister.

Saugerties Man Dies Near Quarry Loading Stone

Efforts by the Saugerties Police Department to revive a 76-year-old resident who collapsed while loading stone into a truck proved unavailing Wednesday afternoon.

William Lang of Partition Street was pronounced dead by Dr. B. W. Gifford at the scene—Echo Hill, an old stone quarry just outside the village.

Sgt. Harold Mills and Officer Edward Sweeney of the police force rushed to the scene with a pumpjack after receiving a call for assistance at 3:30 p. m. Their efforts to revive the elderly man were unavailing.

Sgt. Mills said that a bottle of oxygen was used in the attempt.

Coroner Michael Galletta was also summoned to the scene. The body was removed to the Galletta Funeral Home, thence later to the Hartley and Lamoureux Funeral Home, Saugerties.

Coroner Galletta issued a verdict of death due to natural causes.

Sgt. Mills said Lang had recently purchased a home in Mt. Marion and was building a workshop on the premises. He employed Percy Doyle, a trucker, to draw stone from the old quarry and was helping Doyle load the truck when he collapsed.

Born in Kingston, he resided in Saugerties for the past 75 years. At the time of his death he was proprietor of a grocery store in Saugerties. He was a member of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club, Glascow Rod and Gun Club and the Federated Sportsman's Club of Ulster County.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ann Ennis; three daughters, Mrs. Bessie L. Kasel of Saugerties, Mrs. Edith L. Kramer of Elmhurst, L. I. and Mrs. Marian L. Lezette of Saugerties; seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Hartley and Lamoureux Funeral Home, 8 Second Street, Saugerties, Sunday, 2 p. m. Burial will be in Trinity Cemetery, Barclay Heights. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Head of Drug Firm Shot to Death in Shopping Center

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Forrest Teel, 54, executive vice president of the huge Eli Lilly & Co. pharmaceutical firm, was shot to death early today in a shopping center. Witnesses said another car sped away after the shots cracked out.

Teel, the top sales executive of the drug firm, was shot in the throat, right side and right hip.

Backed From Driveway
Witnesses told police Teel's white Cadillac backed out of a driveway, over a lawn, across a street divider strip, over a curb, and hit a utility pole. Teel apparently was unconscious at the time.

Reports that two men raced away in a cream-and-blue Oldsmobile came from Earl Alexander, 43, a neighbor out walking his dog; and Charles Hendrick, 16, counterman in a restaurant in the shopping center.

No Motive Yet
Alexander said he saw the car speed away after he heard noises that he thought were firecrackers. Homicide Capt. Michael Smiley said it's too early to say what motive could be assigned to the shooting.

"I believe he was shot inside the car," Smiley said.

Teel wore a dark summer suit, but no tie, and his shirt was unbuttoned.

The shooting occurred about five miles from Teel's home in a fashionable section in the Broad Ripple section of Indianapolis.

A friend at the home said Teel had called home Wednesday afternoon, saying he wouldn't be home for dinner. His family didn't know where he was going.

Police found a case of whisky in the trunk of his car.

Didn't Answer
In moments of consciousness after he was found in his car, Teel was asked who shot him. Four times he murmured only "hospital."

He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Police also hunted two men in a second Cadillac who stopped taxicab driver Wesley Miller, 28, and told him to call police because of a shooting, then drove away. Miller said he didn't believe the story until he came upon a crowd around Teel's Cadillac.

Wife, Son Survive
Teel is survived by his widow, Mary Elizabeth, and a son Tom, 14.

His company, one of the world's largest pharmaceutical houses, does an estimated 200-million-dollar-a-year business.

Urges Democratic State Platform Aid N-B Bridge

John S. Stillman, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority, was due to recommend today at Democratic state platform hearings, Peekskill, that "the Democratic State Platform include a statement pledging continued support for the expeditious construction" of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge.

Stillman praised Gov. Harriman for his interest and efforts "to make the bridge a reality." He noted an allotment of approximately $20,000,000 of New York's share of federal highway funds to meet half the cost of the span and said:

"This action has meant 'that private financing of the balance is well within feasible limits, and that construction should begin in 1959.'"

Design and land acquisition, he said, "are now well under way." The bridge, he noted, "will be a major link in Route 503, an interstate route running roughly from central Massachusetts to Ohio. It will cross the Hudson on the Newburgh-Beacon bridge, and cross the Delaware just south of Port Jervis."

It will also provide an adequate east-west highway for Dutchess and Orange Counties. "We recommend," he said, "that the platform contain a pledge that the highway will receive a priority, at least equal to the other upstate interstate highways, the Northway and the Empire Stateway."

Will Continue Gas Drilling to 7,500 Feet at Windham

A decision to sink its Gans No. 1 test well for natural gas in the Town of Windham an additional 500 feet to the 7,500 foot level was announced Wednesday by C. D. Lane, local representative of United Carbon Co., Charleston, W. Va.

The West Virginia firm had originally planned to stop drilling at 7,000 feet if gas was not evident in greater quantity, and the use of hydrofracture was to be employed to loosen shale at the 4,350 foot level where a large pocket of gas was struck on May 16.

The drilling unit had hoped to produce gas in commercial quantities by loosening the subsurface and permitting free flow.

Another good-sized pocket was struck Saturday at the 6,039 foot level, causing suspension of drilling operations for 24 hours. Otis Eastern Service of Bolivar, N. Y., in charge of United's drilling operation was at the 6,100 foot level Tuesday.

United Carbon Co. has exploration rights on approximately 35,000 acres in the Windham area.

Macmillan Summit Proposal Meets With Ike's Approval

Senate Endorses Record Peacetime Bill for Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record peacetime money bill to give the nation's defense forces a stronger space age punch moved back to the House today with unanimous Senate endorsement.

Winding up an overtime session, the Senate voted 71-9 Wednesday night to give the Pentagon $40,042,181,000 for the armed forces during the fiscal year that began July 1.

The House earlier voted about 28½ billions. Unless it unexpectedly approves the more than 1½ billion added by the Senate, the bill will go to a joint conference committee. That group's compromise version will, in turn, require approval of both houses.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.), floor manager for the bill, said it would assure the nation enough power to deliver a knockout punch in a big war or "to handle not one but several brush wars at a single time."

He said the extra money added by the Senate would permit a step-up in missiles, aircraft, nuclear submarines and other major categories of military hardware.

As cleared by the Senate, the bill earmarks more than 18 billion dollars for the Air Force, about 11½ billion for the Navy and Marines, about 9 billion for the Army and the balance for interservice activities.

The Senate total is $120,000,000 more than President Eisenhower money for some items he has requested since then.

Most of the approximately $1,600,000,000 added by the Senate onto the House figure would go to the Air Force — for more B52s and troop-carrying transports.

Some 590 million dollars in the Senate bill also would go to finance costs of the recent military pay increases enacted since the House passed its version of the bill June 5.

DeKay Is Honored, With C-H 35 Years

G. Herbert DeKay, 272 North Manor Avenue, was honored yesterday on the occasion of his 35th anniversary of service with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. He was cited for his long company career and received a service emblem from Central Hudson President Ernest R. Acker at ceremonies in the utility's general office in Poughkeepsie.

DeKay, residential sales representative in the company's Upper Hudson Division, joined Central Hudson on July 30, in Newburgh. He was advanced to Gas Sales Engineer in 1926 and served as public contact supervisor in Kingston from 1941 to 1951.

In June 1951 he was transferred to the company's general office in Poughkeepsie as staff special commercial representative and returned to Kingston in January 1956.

DeKay has been serving as president of the Kingston YMCA since 1955. He is a past president of the Rip VanWinkle Boy Scout Council and the Kingston Kiwanis Club and is a past vice president of the Kingston Community Chest.

A graduate of Syracuse University, Mr. DeKay served as a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Army infantry from 1917 through 1919.

Successfully completing recruit training, he was further transferred to San Diego, Calif., to receive the course of instruction at the Class "A" Trade School in electronics.

A 1957 graduate of Kingston High School, he enlisted as a high school graduate in the electronics field thus assuring him of trade school training in the field of his choice.

He will report to the Naval Base at Midway Island, South Pacific Area, for duty.

X-Ray Department Is Busiest Section of Kingston Hospital

More people are served by Kingston Hospital's X-ray department than by any other department in the hospital.

This is because more than half its work is done for outpatients—persons referred there by their own doctors.

From October 1, 1957, through June 30 of this year, 3,631 inpatients and 3,656 outpatients were examined in Kingston Hospital's X-ray department, according to Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator. In the last complete fiscal year, which ended September 30, 1957, a total of 4,526 inpatients and 5,664 outpatients were examined.

The department's work includes examination of all forms of injuries; examination of various organs including the alimentary canal or digestive system, kidneys and gall bladder; and examination of newborn infants.

for congenital defects and diseases.

225 Chest X-Rays

The X-ray department also does an average of 225 chest examinations a month for hospital inpatients. These are without cost to the patient, under a program in cooperation with the New York State Department of Health.

Since March of last year, Kingston Hospital's X-ray department has been functioning in its new quarters on the first floor adjacent to the emergency room. It had been located in severely cramped space on the fourth floor.

Besides providing needed space and new equipment for taking, developing, reading and storing film, there are new facilities for the patients' comfort, including separate men's and women's dressing rooms and a women's lounge.

New machines include a 500

m.a. General Electric radiographic unit and a 200 m.a. GE fluoroscopic unit. Radiography involves the taking of a picture; fluoroscopy, the observing of organs on a screen. Both come under the broad heading of X-ray, or more correctly, Roentgenology (in honor of Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen, the German physicist who discovered the rays in 1895).

Has Five Units

Kingston Hospital has in all five X-ray units, including a portable unit of the same qualities and power as a regular machine. This can be moved almost anywhere in the hospital and is often taken to the emergency room for the use in the case of severe injuries.

The department is staffed by the radiologist, Dr. Ted R. Smalldon; four technicians including two registered technicians and one student; secretary; receptionist, and orderly. It is on 24-hour call, seven days a week.

Use of Kingston Hospital's X-ray department has grown by more than 50 per cent in the past five years. Following are the numbers of individual inpatients and outpatients examined during the fiscal years shown:

Year	Inpatients	Outpatients
1953	2,779	3,735
1954	3,866	4,034
1955	3,707	4,659
1956	4,810	6,052
1957	4,526	5,664

Total number of examinations performed in fiscal 1957, including some instances of two or more examinations on an individual patient, was 12,280.

Part of the noticeable jump in outpatients examined in 1956 is attributable to the X-rays taken for applicants for employment at the Kingston IBM plant, which was then still recruiting its work force.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Twenty-seven persons, including 12 children, are without homes today, victims of a fire that wrecked two wooden apartment houses Wednesday afternoon.

Four firemen suffered minor injuries but all the inhabitants were safely removed from the buildings. The buildings are in the center of a section cited last Monday by a citizens' group as substandard.

Officials estimated damage at several thousand dollars.

AIM AT SIX-MILLION-POUND THRUST — Sketch shows, at right, a projected missile that can be boosted with a million-pound thrust engine. It is compared for size with well-known existing missiles. Rocketdyne division of North American Aviation, Inc., has just received an Air Force contract to build major components for the unprecedented engine. An essential step toward interplanetary exploration, the development of a single-chambered engine in the one-million-pound class will make a cluster of six for a six-million-pound thrust relatively easy. The million-pound engine will have a liquid propellant system, similar to those used in the Rocketdyne engines for the Atlas ICBM, the Thor and Jupiter IBMs and the Redstone missile that provided the first-stage boost for the satellite-launching Jupiter-C.

Four Townships Receive State Recreation Aid

Four Ulster County townships have been allocated state aid for recreation projects for the coming year totaling $3,500, it was announced today by the New York State Youth Commission.

Lloyd Marlboro and Hurley were each allocated $1,000, and the Town of Rosendale will receive $500.

To Spend $2,000

An application for state aid submitted by Supervisor John J. Gaffney of Town of Lloyd indicated that the town will spend a total of $2,000 during the year to provide a recreation program with activities including swimming and softball at the central school grounds and Recreation Park.

The recreation commission with Harold Borean, chairman and Timothy Murphy, recreation director, is the agency responsible for the conduct of this program at Lloyd.

Supervisor John Quimby submitted the application for the Town of Marlboro indicating that the town will spend $2,000 to provide a recreation program to include swimming, Little League, softball, basketball, baseball, tennis, badminton, horseshoes, mimetics, story plays, group games, art and handicraft, ping pong, dancing, hikes, music, track and field events at Marlboro Central playground.

Conducts Program

The recreational commission with Quimby chairman and Jack Kroh, director conducts the program.

Supervisor Charles Relyea submitted the application for the Town of Hurley indicating that $2,000 will be spent by the town to provide activities including arts, crafts, supervised play, swimming, basketball, dancing, tumbling and baseball at the school ground and gym of West Hurley and Old Hurley, and West Hurley firehouse at District 2.

The Town Board with Winfred Snyder, director of recreation in charge will conduct the program.

Rosendale Aid

Facilities will include Tillson Elementary School and playground, De Witt Lake or Sportsman's Park pool and Spring Lake Skating Rink.

The board of trustees with William K. Wakely, chairman and Ernest R. Hopper, recreation directors will be in charge of the program.

Eisenhower Feels Guatemala Trip Is Very Productive

GUATEMALA (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower winds up his Central American fact-finding tour today with the feeling his face-to-face talks, have helped clear the air.

"The frank talks we have had during this tour," he told Guatemalan leaders, "have cleared up false concepts about national policies, attitudes, programs and capacities."

Eisenhower and the three U.S. economic experts in his party fly back to Washington Friday for a report to President Eisenhower.

Mount Vernon Man Is Held in Bank Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI announced today the arrest of George Anthony Salto, 25, Mount Vernon, N. Y., laundry salesman, as driver of the getaway car in a $120,000 Glendale, Calif., bank hold-up last April 14.

Salto was arrested on a warrant issued in Los Angeles charging violation of the federal bank robbery statute. The FBI did not reveal where Salto was arrested.

Daniel Frederick Mortens, suspected of being the actual holdup man, was arrested in Albany last Tuesday, the FBI said.

Wagner ...

ment informed Democratic candidate-pickers that Wagner was their man.

It was likely their views were greeted warmly by Carmine G. DeSapio, head of Manhattan's Tammany Hall. DeSapio is believed to feel that Wagner would be the best man to share the Democratic ticket with Gov. Harriman in the November election.

Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller, meanwhile, strived to bolster his position as the front-runner for the party's nomination so take on Harriman.

Rockefeller to Cayuga

Rockefeller moved into Auburn for lunch with Cayuga County delegates. This is home territory of long-time congressman John Taber, a close friend of Leonard W. Hall, and the Cayuga County chairman has endorsed Hall for governor. The county has eight delegates.

Rockefeller talked yesterday to leaders of two other Hall-conscious counties—Rensselaer and Schoharie. Rensselaer is the home county of another Hall pal, Rep. Dean P. Taylor, and the county's 17 delegates are expected to stick with Hall.

In Cooperstown last night, James Macduff, the Otsego chairman, said his county's seven delegates would go to the Republican convention next month uncommitted.

Concentrates on N. Y.

Hall, who lives in Oyster Bay, is concentrating his efforts this week on New York City leaders. In a speech at North Tona-wanda, Dickinson aimed his fire at the Eisenhower administration's conduct of foreign policy.

He accused Secretary of State Dulles of being "arrogant" and acting without regard for the democratic system in committing the United States, in effect, to what Dickinson called a full partnership in the Baghdad Pact.

Dickinson said Dulles had failed to consult the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which must consider all treaties, before agreeing Monday to a stronger role in the Baghdad Pact.

Hall said today that "The question that faces the taxpayers of this state in taxation is a deadly serious one."

Hall said in a statement issued in New York City that an editorial in Wednesday's New York World-Telegram & Sun "very aptly . . . states that the biggest issue facing New York State today is whether or not we are to have new and heavier taxes—or what."

Disagrees With Rockefeller

Hall continued: "I could not disagree more with Nelson Rockefeller's published statement of July 14, 1958, contending that the income of small business and wage earners should be increased so they can meet new and heavier taxes. Mr. Rockefeller seems to be saying that citizens should work harder and earn more so that they can pay more taxes. This is close to the theory that the citizen lives for the state."

"Our first objective should be to promote a healthy economic climate in our state. Given that, our citizens will increase their incomes. . . . There is waste and frills in government. We can eliminate them and apply the savings to public improvements or tax reduction at the state level."

Hall advocated "a hold-the-line program of freezing state expenditures at the present level until we are safely out of the woods in this deadly cold war."

He said "Mr. Harriman and his policies stand for the 'spend and spend and tax and tax' policy."

7,136 Witnesses Are Baptized in Bronx Ceremony

NEW YORK (AP)—Jehovah's Witnesses baptized 7,136 of their sect Wednesday by total immersion in Long Island Sound off Orchard Beach in The Bronx. It was termed the largest mass baptism in history.

The unbaptized men, women and children were taken to the beach by a caravan of buses from Yankee Stadium, where the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society is conducting its divine will international assembly.

As they stepped on the beach two lanes were formed, one for men and one for women. The men were bathing trunks and the women both modern and old-fashioned swim suits. Participants changed clothes at a beach bath house.

As the Witnesses reached the water's edge they fanned out into 30 lanes flanked by T-shirted volunteers who guided them to the baptizers, about 75 feet offshore in waist-deep water. The newly baptized persons returned to shore through prepared exit lanes.

Six lifeguards watched over the baptismal scene from three towers. Nurses and doctors were on duty.

The immersions were completed in 2½ hours.

The previous record for Jehovah's Witnesses' baptisms were 4,640 in a Manhattan pool during an international assembly here in 1953.

Nathan H. Knorr, president of the society, said "Baptism is the symbol of one's dedication to God."

Through immersion, each person became a full-fledged member or "minister" of the society.

Police estimated that 10,000 spectators watched from a boardwalk and from behind fences that marked off a 400-foot section of beach serving as the baptism area.

A speaking program after the baptism was heard by 150,000 persons—96,075 at Yankee Stadium, 53,852 at the Polo Grounds, and the others over a public address system set up in a hall near the Polo Grounds.

The current eight-day assembly is being attended by about 170,000 Witnesses from 124 countries.

Andrew Jackson was the first President of the United States to be elected on a Democratic Party ticket. That was in 1829.

Summer Sessions For Elementary In Final Week

Some 140 pupils in the city's elementary summer school program at the George Washington School are now in their fourth and final week.

The program was instituted this summer for the first time on an experimental basis.

Children attending come from the following schools:

School 2, 11 pupils; School 3, six pupils; School 4, two pupils; School 5, 13 pupils; School 6, 14 pupils; School 7, 11 pupils; School 8, eight pupils; George Washington School, 27 pupils; M.J.M. three pupils; St. Joseph's, 18 pupils; St. Mary's, eight pupils; St. Ursula's, five pupils; St. Peter's, three pupils; Chambers, four pupils; Tilson, one pupil; Hurley, one pupil; Emma Wygant, one pupil, and Woodstock, one pupil.

Classes 9 to 11 A. M.

The children attend classes between 9 and 11 a. m. daily.

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston schools, has sent home a questionnaire asking parents to list things about the summer school which were especially helpful to their children and at the same time offer constructive suggestions for improvement of the program. This information will be tabulated and made available to the board of education.

Carpenters Advise

that all available legal methods of assistance to parochial schools should be made known to the public and if further assistance is required it can be accomplished by legislation.

To Remain Controversial

"The matter of selecting sites for future educational facilities will always be a subject of controversy and consolidation, if effected, will not prevent it. Many of those who are fearful of 'country' domination should make an effort to solicit the support and respect of our 'country' cousins. It is apparent to all those interested in building construction that the day will soon arrive when the 'country' districts will exceed Kingston in many other things than population. They are forward in their thinking of urban renewal and regional planning, in their matters of transportation and of housing developments and in their thinking on the vital subject of educating their children. They are progressive in their planning of adequate water supply and satisfactory sewage disposal systems. While all this planning and progress is going ahead in the 'country' areas, the progress of Kingston itself is being steadily hampered by those who oppose everything."

The history of our public school educational system will show that the Carpenters' Union was one of the original advocates of such a system. It has always supported every measure that made better educational services available to more and more children of the working people. Sometimes our advocacy of some of the issues have become highly controversial, in all probability this letter may be considered in the same light by all those who oppose consolidation for any reason.

Not Always in Agreement

"Our Council of Carpenters has not always agreed with some of the decisions made by the Kingston Board of Education. We have spent thousands of dollars in law suits against the board in the matter of representation in a prevailing wage rate case in the rebuilding of School No. 8. The issue in that case was our claim that employees of the board were denied the legal right to the prevailing wage rates of the area. The issue regarding the payment of prevailing wages was never resolved. The courts held only that we were not the proper persons to bring the action. The court also held that our recourse could have been the initiation of proceedings to remove the fiscal officer from office. The court's suggestion was somewhat academic as the course of politics had already accomplished that by the time the decision was reached. We will continue all legal efforts to see that the prevailing wage rates apply to all municipal corporations."

In spite of our feelings regarding the board of education in the above instance we believe the Kingston Board of Education showed great courage in voting for school consolidation, thereby exercising their legal right to approve consolidation. We request that you exercise your legal and moral right and approve the consolidation of the schools in the Kingston area as soon as possible."

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged ahead in active trading early this afternoon with stocks briskly traded but irregular.

The average gain was moving into new high ground for 1958, but the advance was cautious.

Key stocks showed gains of fractions to about a point. Losses were in the same range.

As more steel companies announced price boosts, interest continued to be centered on this section of the market. Profits were taken on Wednesday's strong rise in several instances, however.

Rails continued to make new highs for the year following congressional clearance of the rail aid legislation. Some aircrafts, nonferrous metals, oils and building materials made gains. Motors, mail orders and rubbers were mixed.

Trading was heavy at the opening. The market was generally higher at the start, eased from its best levels considerably, then firmed again.

Youngstown Sheet was off more than two points for a while then halved its loss.

Lukens was about two points higher in early dealings then pared its gain to a fraction. U.S. Steel was steady. Small losses were taken by Arco and Republic Steel.

Goodrich fell more than a point. Gains of about a point were made by U.S. Gypsum and Kaiser Aluminum.

U.S. government bonds made moderate gains.

Price Increase Keeps Spreading In Steel Industry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A selective price increase today continued to spread through the steel industry while the nation's two biggest steel firms remained silent on what action they plan to take.

Two more companies announced price increases in flat rolled products. The action came from Pittsburgh Steel Co. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Armco Steel Corp. started the pattern Tuesday by announcing a boost in its prices for hot and cold rolled sheets by an average of $4.50 a ton. Armco was followed Wednesday by Republic, Jones & Laughlin and National Steel.

U.S. Steel, the nation's No. 1 producer and traditional pace setter, and Bethlehem Steel, the No. 2 producer, continued to withhold any statement on prices.

The six companies posting price increases produced a combined total of more than 31 millions tons of steel last year. Bethlehem and U.S. Steel together produced more than 52 million tons.

Kefauver Would Pry

In Washington, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, responded by saying he is thinking about proposing an inquiry into the price increases and the possibility of a rollback to old prices.

He told the Senate "it is time for the President to speak out firmly and use the great power of his office" to keep steel prices stable. He also called a subcommittee meeting for Friday to consider "what we can effectively do to discourage price hikes by more steel producers."

May Spread to Firms

The price hikes apply mostly to sheet and strip steel, which is used mainly by automobile and appliance manufacturers. But there is speculation among consumers that the price hikes may soon spread to other types of steel.

There seemed little likelihood that increased steel prices would result in an immediate increase in the prices of cars and appliances such as stoves and refrigerators. Manufacturers of these items have steel on hand that was purchased under current prices, and they hesitate raising prices when sales are slow.

Rochester Phone Firm Scored, But PSC Raises Rates

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission sharply criticized the Rochester Telephone Corp. today but agreed to let the company raise its rates up to $1.50 a month.

Despite its charge that the company offered poor service in some areas, the PSC decided by a 4-1 vote to permit all of the $2,100,000 annual rate increase the company proposed last April. The rate increases will range from 35 cents to $1.50.

The dissenting vote was cast by a commission member who wanted to trim $300,000 from the amount allowed, to underscore the PSC's dissatisfaction with service on the Canandaigua, Webster and Scottsville Exchanges.

Must Wait 30 Days
Instead, the commission told the company it would have to wait 30 days, after filing its new rate schedule, before it could impose the higher charges on the three exchanges.

Elsewhere in the system, however, the company may start collecting the higher rates as soon as the new tariff is filed.

The company serves more than 250,000 subscribers in Rochester and several neighboring counties. It is the largest independent telephone company in the state.

The higher rates will apply to both home and business phones. A PSC spokesman said he could not give details on the increase until the new tariff was submitted.

Holds Up Plan

In another action, the PSC ordered the New York Water Service Corp. Wednesday to hold up its plan for increasing rates to Rochester plant customers until a public hearing could be held.

The company had proposed to raise its rates to the 26,500 customers by a total of $13,050 a year, effective Aug. 2. The commission said it would schedule a hearing later.

In granting the telephone rate

Squeeze Is Teamed With End Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand is a combination squeeze and end play.

South has arrived at six no-trump after a spade overcall by West. West has opened the seven of hearts and South decides from the combination of the overcall and the neutral lead that West surely holds the king of diamonds and the ace and queen of spades.

South also notes that he has only 11 top tricks. Without the overcall South might well have decided to lead up to his ace-queen of diamonds or his king of spades.

As it is, South wins the opening heart lead in his own hand and runs out six club tricks, discarding a spade and two diamonds from dummy.

Now he runs dummy's three hearts and discards his nine of spades and seven of diamonds.

Since 10 tricks have been played, West is down to three cards. If he has let either the ace or queen of spades go, a spade lead throws him in to lead up to South's diamonds. If he holds both the ace and queen of spades, South simply drops his king of diamonds with the ace.

not expect haste in permitting rate increases."

Eddy warned that "more stringent action" would be taken unless there was "immediate and satisfactory improvement."

'Bad Service'

But Commissioner Spencer P. Eddy charged in an opinion that the company offered "bad service" in some areas because of "lack of routine maintenance and lack of coordination between the traffic and plant departments."

He called this "inexcusable."

Commissioner Richard H. Balch wanted to cut $300,000 from the request.

Of the 30-day delay imposed on the three exchanges, Eddy said: "We are taking this... action as a clear indication that it is the policy of the commission, where a company is not zealous to correct faults in service due to lack of routine maintenance, that it cantreuse trousers, a gold belt and an orange T-shirt and carries a stuffed fox, appeared in court on charges of disorderly conduct.

Stuffy Tale

He explained to the judge that a man threatened to kick his fox into the street and that he loved the fox. Millikan suggested the man kick him instead. The stranger did. Millikan said he was just expressing his feelings when the policeman arrived.

William Gillette studied stenography and, living in a boardinghouse of the better class, practiced every evening by taking down all that was uttered in the drawing room. Years later he went over his notebooks and found that in four months of incessant conversation no one had said anything that made any difference to anybody.

A young man who was particularly about his laundry wrote a note to his washer-woman and one to his girl, and, by a strange fatality, put the wrong address on each envelope and sent them off.

The washerwoman was well pleased at an invitation to take a ride the next day, but when the young woman read, "If you muss my shirt bosom, and rub the buttons off my collar any more, as you did the last time, I will go somewhere else," she cried all the evening, and vowed that she would never speak to him again.

Mr. Green was sleeping like a baby but his wife, disturbed by the noises of a dice game on the floor above, couldn't drop off. She didn't like to awaken him but she finally was forced to.

Mrs. Green—I'm sorry, Ben, but they are making so much noise in that crap game upstairs that I just can't go to sleep. Won't you go and break it up, please. It's very late, anyway.

Mr. Green groaned mightily, donned his trousers, and made his way upstairs. Fully an hour passed before the noises stopped. A few minutes later he came back to the bedroom, yawned and sat down to take off his shoes.

Mrs. Green—What took you so long? I thought you were never coming back.

Mr. Green—You must remember I had only fifty cents to start with.

New IBM Card Plant Is Opened

A new card manufacturing plant, built by the Supplies Division of International Business Machines Corporation, went into operation recently in Dayton, N. J., according to the plant's general manager, E. L. McCall.

This new 127,000 square foot facility will serve the rapidly growing needs of data processing machine customers in the New York-Philadelphia area. It is comprised of a single-story manufacturing building with an attached two-story structure housing administrative offices and an employees' cafeteria.

Construction has been completed in only seven months from the time of the original announcement of plans last December 26. As in all other Supplies Division plants at Endicott, New York; Washington, D. C.; Greencastle, Indiana; Sherman, Texas; and San Jose, California, manufacturing equipment features extensive automation in materials handling. A unique conveyor system is employed to handle and store finished cartons of punch cards. This conveyor system accepts the sealed cartons directly from each manufacturing machine station, automatically segregates each customer's order, and holds the order in conveyor storage overhead until ready for shipment. By operation of a master control console, individual orders are automatically selected from storage and delivered directly to the loading platform for shipment.

Fatal Collision

CARLISLE, N. Y. (AP)—Augustine Pedone, 26, of Utica, perished Wednesday when his truck and a farm tractor pulling two trailers collided on busy Route 20.

A fire touched off hay in the trailers and engulfed the truck. The tractor driver, Elmer Rockwell, said the flames prevented him from reaching Pedone.

Rockwell, 23, suffered a leg injury. He lives in this Schoharie County hamlet.

Children Scare Him

Lion on Loose Rips Up House 2 Hours

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—An escaped lion met a group of children playing in the street Wednesday night, and who got scared? The lion.

The frightened 350-pound beast jumped through an open window into the house of his owner, animal trainer Merrill W. Heuer, who exhibits him at carnivals and fairs. Heuer, sensibly, jumped out another window.

For more than two hours the lion tore around inside the house, ripping furniture, clawing draperies and emitting blood-chilling roars. Heuer finally lured him into a makeshift cage with a chunk of meat.

Heuer keeps the 7-year-old lion in a cage on his property near Malibu. He said he didn't know how the animal got out.

A Trimming They Like

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Nogales residents often cross the border to get trimmed in Mexico—and they like it. The cost of a haircut in Nogales, Mexico, is just 40 cents—plus the traditional peso tip—eight cents. The union scale in Arizona is $1.50.

Iother Shoots Son Practicing Fast Draws

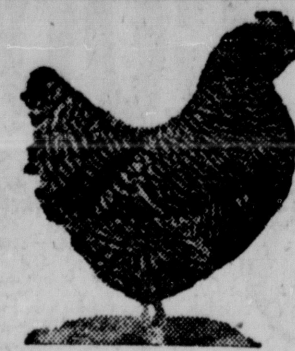

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A mother accidentally shot and killed her 23-year-old son as they practiced fast draws against each other in their home, the sheriff's office said Wednesday night.

Deputies said Mrs. Dorothy Clayton, 45, and her son, James, an airman at nearby March Air Force Base, were seeing who could outdraw each other with .22 revolvers. They thought the guns were unloaded.

On the third draw the gun fired as Mrs. Clayton pulled the trigger and her son fell dead with a bullet near the heart.

Saugerties Naval Display To Head Features Of Assemblage

An elaborate Naval Display at Cantine Memorial Field will be one of the main attractions at the Saugerties on Parade Assemblage Saturday, Aug. 16, according to Alex Osina, participating chairman of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce.

Ship models, space suits, a jet engine and special movies depicting the newest developments in Naval engineering will be displayed at the exhibition which is gradually taking on a little World's Fair appearance.

Among the displays will be a jet ejector seat complete with dummy or mannequin. Mannequins dressed in stratospheric flight gear will also be exhibited.

In addition to the 45 foot scale model of a destroyer mentioned earlier, the Navy will display two five foot scale models of the aircraft carrier Forrestal and the battleship Iowa.

Other branches of the service have made previous announcements assuring the committee of their participation.

The assemblage will serve as a showcase for the products and manufactured items of the Saugerties area and will give the Saugerties merchants the opportunity to create a congenial atmosphere to encourage new shoppers.

Malden Woman Reported Injured At Greene Beach

A 25-year-old Malden woman escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when propeller backwash from an unidentified deep sea tanker reportedly hurled her against a parked car on Coxackie bathing beach.

Mrs. Shirley Maxwell told Trooper J. P. Mills of Leeds substation that she suffered torn ligaments in her left ankle when she was thrown against a parked car on the beach by a miniature tidal wave churned up by a passing ship on the Hudson River.

Mrs. Maxwell received treatment at the office of Dr. John Vosburgh of Coxackie. Two small unidentified children were removed from the beach by Herbert Blawie of Athens just prior to the incident to prevent them from being drawn into deep water by the suction of the propeller which preceded the wash, it was reported.

Town Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Howard France and sons, Howard Jr., and John of Barclay Heights returned from a vacation in Maine and Tupper Lake.

Visiting Mrs. Anna Winchell of Malden-on-Hudson Sunday were Mrs. Ada Bradow of Oak Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Morse; Mr. and Mrs. Cronk, Lake Hill. Monday visitors were Mrs. Jane B. Van Loan and Mrs. L. Wood of Athens. Other recent visitors

Two Loggers Drown

LONG LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—Four loggers were tossed into Little Tupper Lake Wednesday when their motorboat capsized. Two were drowned.

One man dragged the fourth, a non-swimmer, to an island about 150 feet away.

State Police said the dead were Richard Potter, 38, of Blue Mountain Lake, and Richard Demarse, 35, of Indian Lake.

Potter's body was recovered. Eugene Arsenault was credited with saving the life of Walter Chatterton. Both live in Indian Lake.

Little Tupper Lake, in a remote part of the Adirondacks, is 60 feet deep where the boat capsized.

Practically every sale of every product manufactured in the U. S. will be purchased by one of the 100 million people who read a newspaper on an average day.

Over Billion and Half Passed for Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed unanimously a measure authorizing $1,644,641,000 for proposed construction by the Air Force, Army and Navy.

The Senate version, approved Wednesday, now goes to a Senate-House conference committee. Its total is about 74 million dollars under the $1,718,788,000 authorized by the House and 500 million dollars less than requested by the Defense Department.

The measure provides no actual funds. Congress will approve the appropriations later.

Both bills include the following projects in New York State:

Air Force: Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome—Operational training and supply facilities and real estate, $1,177,000.

Plattsburgh AFB—Supply facilities and utilities, $208,000.

Suffolk County AFB, Westhampton—Maintenance facilities, $86,000.

Melodies of Old Vienna Next For Harmony Hill Concerts

The immortal melodies of Old Vienna and Germany will weave their charm and spell around capacity audiences expected to attend the next series of Harmony Hill concerts at the Woodstock School auditorium on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 8 and 9.

The Austrian concert, entitled "Vienna, City of My Dreams" will be staged Friday, Aug. 8, at 8:15 p. m. and will be followed by a matinee performance of "The Music of Germany" from Martin Luther to Werner von Egk on Saturday, Aug. 9 at 2 p. m.

A film will be shown at each concert, with "Melodious Austria" which shows the places where Austria's great composers lived, on Friday night and "The Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra" scheduled Saturday. The film brings excerpts from performances by this famous orchestra under their great conductors Furtwangler, Boehm, Bruno Walter, Richard Strauss, etc.

Schimmerling Conducts
Prof. H. A. Schimmerling who will produce and direct the show will appear as conductor pianist. He will also play the waltz from "The Bat" by Johann Strauss at the Austrian concert.

The beautiful soprano voice of Joan Owen, the Woodstock Children's Chorus and the Juan Manorska Ballet will be featured in the Austrian concert. Miss Owen will be joined by the superb contralto, Selma Jacobs-Grubel, and the Children's Chorus for the German concert.

JOAN OWEN

The entire production was arranged by Prof. Schimmerling, noted Woodstock composer and musical director, who produced the brilliant "Music of Israel" and the Spring Music Festival at the Woodstock School.

A unique and huge exhibition of German and Austrian music will be open for patrons of the concerts on Friday, Aug. 8 (7:45 to 10 p. m.), Saturday, Aug. 9 (1:30 to 5 p. m.), and Monday, Aug. 11 (admission free) from 12 noon to 4 p. m. Taken from Prof. Schimmerling's personal collection, the exhibit will feature first editions, latest publications, portraits of famous musicians, music sites, ballet and opera scenes, etc.

Cultural Event

This cultural event was made possible through the courtesy of the Woodstock School and the assistance of the Austrian Consulate General in New York, the Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany in New York and the cultural organization Inter Nationes in Bonn, Germany.

The program for the Aug. 8 Austrian concert:
Chorus — Glorious Things and Austrian National Anthem by Joseph Haydn; Miss Owen will sing five songs: With Verdure Clad from "The Creation" by Haydn; Pamina's Aria from the Magic Flute by Mozart; The Rose in the Heather by Franz Schubert; Secrecy by Hugo

Wolf; and Spring Morning by Gustav Mahler.

The Manorska Ballet will perform Holiday for Horses from the Vienna Court Riding School (based on the Fire Festival Polka) by Joseph Strauss. The film "Melodious Austria" showing the places where Austria's great composers lived and the landscapes that inspired their music complete the first half of the program.

Selections to be sung by Miss Owen after the intermission include: Vilya's Song, Lehar; Trees Are In Blossom Again, Robert Stoltz; My Hero, Oscar Strauss; Emperor Waltz Johann Strauss; Vienna, City of My Dreams, Sieczynski; and the Waltz from The Gypsy Primas by Emeric Kalman in which she will be joined by the Manorska Ballet. The Chorus will do the waltz from The Gypsy Baron and the Stodole Pumpa, a folk-song; and Tales From the Vienna Woods by Johann Strauss, Prof. Schimmerling will play the waltz from "The Bat" by Johann Strauss.

Varied Program

The German concert (Aug. 9) opens with the chorus singing A Mighty Fortress Is Our God, by Martin Luther; Bach's Chorale from the "St. Matthew's Passion"; and the chorus from Orpheus by Gluck. Selma Grubel will sing Thou Art With Me by Bach; Polissena's Aria from "Radamisto" by Handel and There Was A King by Beethoven. Joan Owen will be heard in a group of four songs: New Love, Mendelssohn; Thou Art A Flower, Schumann; In Lonely Wood by Brahms and Mary's Cradle Song by Max Reger. The film "Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra" follows.

After the intermission, Selma Grubel will be heard in four selections: Power of Love, Hans Fittner; When All Is Calm, Hermann Heiss; Sombre Song, Gottfried van Einem; and Tarantella, Werner Egk. The chorus sings the waltz from "The Rosenkavalier" by Richard Strauss. Joan Owen sings Cecily by Richard Strauss and Selma Grubel does Brangaena's Call from "Tristan" by Wagner before chorus combines with the two soloists for the grand finale, "Awake" from "The Meister-singer" by Richard Wagner.

New Show Opens At Art Gallery

The Woodstock Artists Association opened a new show of paintings and sculpture on July 26 and the opening was accompanied by the awarding of a sustaining membership to Alexander Settino of Lake Hill and Brooklyn. Settino also received a limited edition print by the well known American artist, Ethel Magafan.

Ninety four non-members attended the opening, many of whom had never seen the Gallery before, with a large percentage from out of the state and the New York city area. The number of new members obtained was highly satisfactory.

The exhibitors included: Ethel Magafan, Lillian Lent, Howard Mandel, Manuel Bromberg, Nick Marsicano, Ben Meyers, Lynfield Ott, Eugene Ludins, Bernard Steffen, Amy Gans Small, Herman Oxhandler, Anton Regier, Sal Sirugo, Hannah Small, Tom Penning, James Turnbull, Florence Weinstein, Reginald Wilson, Arthur Zaidenberg, Ed Michaels, Robert Angele, Tommy Beere, Lucille Blanch, Gladys Brodsky, Edward Chavez, Annick du Charme, Richard Crist, Mary Earley, Harvey Fite, Cecile Forman, Helen Gerardia, Mark Friedman, Philip Held, Caroline Haberlin, Rosella Hartman, Agnes Hart, Ann Kopp, Anne Helloff, Eleanor Lockspeiser, Gabriel Laderman, Ethel Leventhal.

Hostesses at the party were Nancy Angeloch, Lorraine Pachner, Sylvia Galen, Ann Held, Florence Braverman, Nancy Elliott, Frances Stein and Clara Klinghofer.

Seaton Exhibit Pleases Critic

The memorial exhibit of 21 paintings and drawings by Walter Seaton currently being shown at the Woodstock Country Club includes a generous selection of work done during the many years he lived here in Woodstock. The exhibit is devoted almost entirely to the personal work of Seaton, who is also well-known to many young readers for his illustrations to the classics.

Landscapes of the immediate environment of the artist, and portraits of members of his family, give this exhibit an intimate quality which one finds absent in many of the exhibits of today. Fresh spontaneous brush strokes and careful observation of nature have been successfully combined in depicting subjects which one feels had a special importance to the artist. The white bark of a birch tree, curled autumn leaves or a stony brook flowing along in the woods, all are painted with competent ease and in his water colors especially there is a lightness of touch and economy of means of the accomplished craftsman.

Of the eleven water colors included in the exhibit, "Old Apple Tree in May," is especially interesting. An old tree with its twisted branches heavily laden with blossoms gives an impression of monumental grandeur against the grassy ground around it. Free washes of color, with occasional calligraphic outlines to characterize forms, together with an awareness of the surface quality of the paper, give this work vitality and luminosity.

Water Color Appeal

The water color of a cluster of silver birches entitled "Autumn," is also very appealing. Here too the paint is applied with spontaneous directness using clear color.

"National Velvet," is the only work included in the exhibition which was painted as an illustration, and although naturally restricted in subject matter it has the vivacity which one sees in all of Seaton's work. This was painted as the frontispiece to an edition of "National Velvet" just published by Doubleday.

The four portrait drawings all show Seaton's ability in bringing out the character of the subject. This is especially so in those of "Emily, 1944," and "Judith at Twelve Years," both in charcoal. Character is also shown in the oil painting of John Striebel, however in all of the oil paintings, with the exception of "Old Farmhouse," there is a certain amount of restraint in the use of color and they therefore lack the direct spontaneous quality one sees in the water colors.

The lounge of the Country Club provides a very suitable setting for this interesting exhibit of the work of Walter Seaton and one is glad to have the opportunity of seeing the works of an artist who had such a great personal knowledge of the Woodstock countryside. —Alison Ames, beureddg,tdcjo:kyrp

Rec Committee Drive for Funds Opens This Week

The annual appeal for funds for the Woodstock Recreation Committee's summer playground program gets under way this week, chairman Kermit L. Schwarz has announced.

In opening the drive for funds, chairman Schwarz made an appeal for public support, pointing out that the committee receives only $1,000 in state aid while the rest of the money must come from volunteer donations within the township.

"Our program is rapidly expanding," said Schwarz, "and the need for public support is greater now than ever before. We are presenting this year the most expanded program in our history and the wonderful things being done for our children at Andy Lee Memorial Field merit the support of everyone in the township of Woodstock."

Letters This Week

Letters seeking donations for the recreation fund will be in the mails this week.

The letter soliciting financial assistance points to the several improvements at the recreation field since 1957. These include the installation of a new swimming pool filter at the cost of $800; the canteen and canteen tent, lockers in the dressing rooms and the croquet court. The program of activities also has been expanded to include five new projects.

"This wonderful program and all these new additions to our facilities at the recreation field are placing an ever mounting financial burden on the committee," Schwarz concluded. "Great public support is imperative and we hope that everyone will make a prompt return when they receive their letters."

Everything in Guessing Stage

Asks If Summit Conference Will Be World Town Meeting

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Trying to guess what kind of summit meeting to expect—if any—is like trying to look through a window with the shade down, the shutters closed and the glass painted black. This writer—after watching the big powers' maneuvering—won't believe there'll be a meeting until it actually starts. But, if it does, this is the basic question: Is it going to be a real summit meeting or will it be turned into a kind of town meeting of the world with everyone and his grandmother getting up to speak his piece?

Wants Arab States
Soviet Premier Khrushchev wants India—besides the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—to sit in on the summit meeting. And, since the meeting will be on the Middle East, he wants the Arab states to get a chance to talk.

But if the Arabs are heard, the Jews of Israel, sitting right in the center of the Arab world, will have a right to speak. Turkey, Iran and Pakistan, all linked in with the Middle East, no doubt will want to be heard too.

And so may others. All that takes time. So just how much time will the big powers have to discuss the problem which prompted the meeting?

None of that is clear or predictable now and won't be for some time.

Khrushchev isn't choosy about where the meeting is held. But President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan say it should take place within the United Nations Security Council.

That Council is made up of 11 nations, including the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union. If the heads of those four governments sit down in the place of their regular delegates, the heads of the remaining seven nations may want to do the same. As members of the Council, they'd all have a right to talk.

Eisenhower wants the 11 nations' delegates now on the Council to make the arrangements for a summit meeting in the Council. This, presumably, would include agreement on what nations should be heard and for how long.

But the delegates on the Council haven't yet started discussing such arrangements. And since the Soviet Union and the Western powers have so much trouble agreeing on anything, it's difficult to see how they'll quickly agree on summit arrangements.

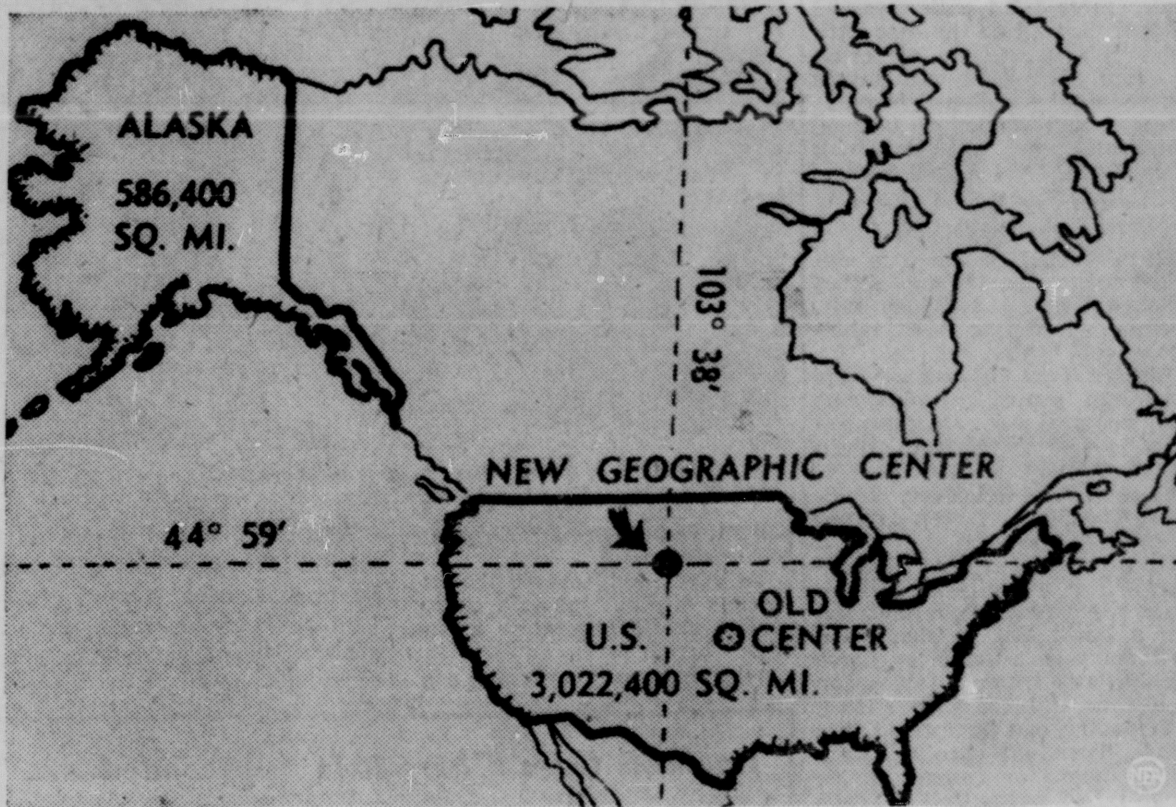

The Eisenhower administration takes the position that the big powers shouldn't try by themselves to work out decisions that would be rammed down the throats of smaller nations.

Yet no stability in the Middle East—in the sense of guaranteeing frontiers, agreement against outside attack and so on—can be assured at all unless the big powers do agree on what to do.

Even if they meet within the framework of the United Nations, the U. N. itself will be powerless to assure stability in the Middle East unless the big powers agree on how to do it.

Meanwhile, French Premier de Gaulle frowns on meeting either in New York or within the United Nations and has expressed fear that unless the meeting is limited to the big powers the whole thing will turn into a donnybrook.

Time may show he was a lot more realistic than Eisenhower, Macmillan or Khrushchev. But as of now none of the questions raised here has been answered. Everything is still in the guessing stage after almost three weeks of letter writing.

MAKING A CHANGE—When Alaska is added to the Union, the new geographic center of the U. S. will be near a hill called "Two Top Peak" about 11 miles west of Castle Rock, S. D., and about 20 miles from the point where South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming meet. It's some 439 miles from the present geographic center near Lebanon, Kansas, according to the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. (NEA Telephoto)

Catty Curiosity
JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP)—Thanks to the curiosity of a cat, a Janesville man's wallet has been returned after 10 years. The cat was seen clawing at the earth behind the Richard Struely home. Struely dug deeper into the ground and found the wallet, which apparently had been stolen a decade ago from Bill Attis.

The money was gone but identification papers were intact. Struely returned the wallet to Attis.

Eunice is the Greek word for "happy victory."

Theater Month Set

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 4,000 community theaters in the United States have been invited to participate in celebrating November as National Community Theater Month.

Main purposes of the project are to recognize the work of local dramatic organizations, and to assist them in widening the scope of activities.

Initiated by a magazine (Theatre Arts), the sponsoring committee has Vice President Richard Nixon as an honorary member and includes Ralph Bellamy, president of Actor's Equity; Henry Fonda, Cyril Richard, Frederic March, Celeste Holm and Eva La Gallienne.

The Port Even Business Mens' Assn. desires to express sincere thanks to the following for their generous contributions which helped to insure the success of the "Beautiful Baby Contest" held recently.

Chicken Tart Is Meat and Vegetable Dish All in One

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

When you want something a little different for supper, try tender tarts filled with creamed chicken. You'll like the ease with which this corn meal pie crust rolls out. The tarts are entree and vegetable combined in one.

Serve tart salad of orange, grapefruit and avocado with these Chicken Go Round Tarts.

Chicken Go Round Tarts
(Makes 6 servings)

Pie Crust: One-half cup enriched corn meal, 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 4-6 tablespoons cold water.

Filling: Two 10½-ounce cans mushroom soup, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon curry powder, 2 cups diced cooked chicken, dash of pepper, 1 chicken bouillon cube, 1 10-ounce package frozen mixed vegetables, cooked.

Heat oven to very hot (450 degrees F.). For pie crust, sift together corn meal, flour and salt into a bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water a tablespoon at a time, mixing with a fork until pastry can be formed into a ball. Turn out onto a lightly floured board or canvas; divide dough into 2 parts. Roll out each part to about ⅛-inch thickness. Cut dough into 6 circles slightly larger than inverted tart pans. Fit dough into tart pans; flute edge and prick surface of each with fork. Place on cookie sheet. Bake in preheated oven (450 degrees F.) 12-15 minutes.

For filling, place soup, chopped onion, curry powder, cooked chicken, pepper and chicken bouillon cube in saucepan over very low heat (may use double boiler). Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally.

To serve, fill tart shells with chicken mixture; place a ring of cooked mixed vegetables around edge of each tart.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:

Chicken Go Round Tarts with vegetable topping, soft rolls, butter or margarine, orange, grapefruit and avocado salad, French dressing, burnt sugar layer cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Out of the Past

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP) — The schooner Iris of New Bedford, Mass., plied the Atlantic and Pacific some 20 years before the American Civil War. She was captained by George B. Spooner.

Spooner's granddaughter, Mrs. J. M. Rose, has the ship's log. Much of the Iris' time was devoted to whaling but the men weren't too busy to stay out of trouble. On one occasion, Spooner wrote: "At 4 p. m. a disturbance arose between the mate and one of the boatswains. He gave some most abusive language. Likewise, he clinched the captain and struck at the mate. "At 5 p. m. put the gentleman in irons and put him in the run for safekeeping. It is hard but fair."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Broiling and frying chickens stay in the food spotlight this week thanks to a tried and true formula: big supply and low prices.

The birds are down from 2 to 10 cents a pound in some areas. Prices vary from place to place. Heavy numbers of chicks currently being fattened up for market guarantee heavy supplies until at least Labor Day. After that the normal seasonal downturn is expected to keep fryers at bargain levels for some time to come.

Egg Prices Up

Egg prices, however, are up 2 to 6 cents a dozen, with the increase laid to seasonal factors. Not all stores are featuring chickens, of course. Leg of lamb, turkey, chuck roast and ham also come in for the feature treatment.

Supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables continue to be plentiful. Best buys in the vegetable bins, produce men say, are cabbage, snap beans, cauliflower, celery, endive, escarole, onions, radishes and potatoes.

Other Good Buys

Other good buys in vegetables are carrots, sweet corn, cucumbers, lettuce, tomatoes and peppers.

Watermelons are at their lowest price in years, veteran produce men say, with 30 to 35-pound melons going for around 50 cents in some areas. Peaches, blueberries, limes and lemons also are good buys. Cantaloups and honeydew melons also are reported cheaper this week.

End of Child-Raising Begins
Chapter II in Couple's Life

Want insurance against you and your husband finding your life together dull and meaningless once the children are grown and gone from home?

You can have it if you start preparing for the time long before it comes.

By the time the last child leaves home, you and your husband should have several engrossing hobbies or leisure time activities which you share, and some that you don't.

You should have good friends your own age whose companionship is easy and pleasant.

You should have plans for just the two of you—as bright and ambitious as the plans you had for your children.

You should have begun to simplify your living, so that you aren't tied to unnecessary chores when you do have the freedom to come and go and do pretty much as you please.

You should be willing to let your children lead their own lives, instead of thinking that their problems are yours to solve and their difficulties are yours to straighten out.

You should look forward, instead of backward. The family years were busy, rewarding years. But the years ahead can be busy, rewarding years, too, if you look for the advantages in being a couple again, instead of expecting nothing but the loneliness of not feeling needed. After all, you will need each other more than ever when the children are gone.

You should be willing to make the effort to have new experiences, instead of settling down into a monotonous routine. Why cling to the comforts of home if you can travel and see new places and make new friends and share new experiences?

With imagination and planning, a couple can assure themselves that the second period in their lives when there are just the two of them again can be as happy as the first.

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—Guy Laroche today put the waistline about as high as he can without turning belts into collars.

His surprisingly slim and simple silhouette is a handsome cross between the trapeze and the baby doll. It is a complete taming of the sack.

The designer left fashion writers to name his line for themselves. His skirts just about cover the knee and that's all.

Little dust ruffles are a trademark of the new Laroche creations. They appear at the hem of coats and suit skirts, under the bustline of dresses, and peeping out from under flat collars.

The designer's strongest conviction is that the silhouette must be cut as high as possible with a belt or seam, with everything free and easy from there to a short hemline. Fullness varied from a few near-sheaths to gathered or flared, but never voluminous, skirts.

The skirt top is built up high to meet it without touching the waist en route. This apparently is achieved with an interior buckram band, and the effect is something really new.

There seems to be a rule this season that the waist is sacred or untouchable. The designers must have chewed their fingernails thinking up some of the tricks they employ.

Laroche puts a leather belt right under breast pocket flaps on a tweed suit. Other belts, usually fabric, are attached to the bottom of bolero-length blouses. Some are slotted through coats at the same height. A few only underline the shoulder blades.

Although some dresses fall in gathers in front, most often fullness is kept to the back.

Necklines are either broadly bared boat necks or a deeply scooped curve.

Gold lame evening suits are popular. Cocktail dresses get real bosomy with the high waistline, the low-scooped neckline and what looks like a bit of padding in between.

Formals are floor length, ankle length or short in front and long behind.

ADVICE TO A LONELY NEWCOMER

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow and have just recently moved to a large city in order to take a position. Having lived in a small town all my life where everyone was very friendly, I find the people here very cold and aloof and I am terribly lonely. Will you please tell me how I, as a stranger, can go about meeting people without being considered a pusher? I would appreciate it so very much if you could help me.

Answer: The best move you can make is to go to the church of your denomination and join some of the activities. You can not possibly go often without finding a few people who are friendly. Further than this, you could join the Red Cross or some other organization or club that specializes in something you are particularly interested in. Through this you will surely meet others with similar interests.

Concerning the Clergyman's Wife

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to invite the wife of the officiating clergyman to a house wedding, where the guest list is limited to the immediate families and fewest friends of the bride and groom? The ceremony will be followed by a buffet supper.

Answer: Under usual circumstances she is always included. But if the wedding is very small and she happens to be unknown to you, it would not be considered discourteous to have the clergyman remain alone after the ceremony.

No Fingers

Dear Mrs. Post: When chops are served with paper frills, does this mean that they may be picked up and eaten in the fingers?

Answer: Paper frills are solely for decoration to cover the end of a bone that is ugly. It is never good table manners, except at a picnic, to pick up any sort of meat in the finger—whether it be a chop, a chicken wing or the drumstick.

Many people put off letter writing because they do not know how to express their thoughts. You will find booklet No. 502, "Etiquette of Letter Writing," helpful. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. E.P. c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Turkey Accepts New Iraq Government

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey, close ally of the fallen regime of King Faisal, recognized the new government of Iraq today.

The action followed a decision taken by Iraq's former Baghdad Pact allies—Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan—during a meeting in London this week. Iran and Pakistan already have announced recognition.

Recognition leaves the door open for the new Iraqi regime to stay with the pact if it wants to. The U.S. and Britain also are expected to recognize the new government.

MRS. ROBERT J. CORCORAN

Miss Veronica Coniglio of Port Ewen Becomes Bride of Robert James Corcoran

Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, was the scene Sunday, July 27, of the nuptials of Miss Veronica Coniglio of Port Ewen and Robert James Corcoran.

The Rev. Joseph J. Comyns, CSsR, rector of Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The Rev. Michael J. Curley of Brooklyn also attended.

Soloist Martin Kelly Jr. sang "Ave Maria," "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling" and "Panis Angelicus." Organist was James J. Sweeney.

White pompons, pink carnations, gladioli and palms banked the altar. Church pews were festooned with white gladioli and satin bows.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Coniglio of Port Ewen was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white nylon tulle decorated with Spanish lace and sequins was fashioned with scoop neckline, and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt of chapel length, styled with taffeta panniers terminated in a train. Her headpiece of imported silk bridal illusion was a scalloped sunburst tiara, accented with tiny seed pearls. Her fingertip and modesty veils were scalloped. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, white orchid and white glamelias.

Mrs. Richard Griggs of Port Ewen was matron of honor for her sister. Her white organdy bouffant gown of waltz length was styled with a cummerbund in open blue. Her picture hat of white sheer straw was banded in matching blue. She carried a plateau basket of blue, pink and white majestic daisies.

Mrs. John Burns of Kingston, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. Her gown of white and lilac was fashioned like that of the honor attendant. Junior attendant, Miss Agnes Perry of Port Ewen, niece of the bride, wore a white and blue organdy gown and a matching bonnet. She carried a small plateau basket of daisies.

Atlantic Alliance Not In Accord on Summit

PARIS (AP) — A last-minute meeting of the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance failed today to iron out differences among Britain, France and the United States over acceptance of the Soviet bid for a summit conference.

Delegates to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council have met three times in 24 hours in an effort to work out a compromise. Britain and United States want to hold the summit talks on Middle Eastern problems within the framework of the United Nations. Premier de Gaulle of France insists on a private meeting of the big powers outside the "circus atmosphere"—as one aide called it—of the United Nations Security Council.

Lowered Hemline and 'Curve' Silhouette Featured by Yves Saint-Laurent of Dior

PARIS (AP)—Dior designer Yves Saint-Laurent today lowered the hemline by several inches—to about 15 inches from the floor. Saint-Laurent's hemline was up to five inches lower than those of other Paris fashion houses whose fall and winter collections have been shown so far. Their skirts have cleared the floor by as much as 20 inches. The House of Dior's new "curve" line curves both shoulders and skirts. The silhouette is short-waisted but not truly Empire. A five-inch drop in length caught every other major house with skirts hiked up to the knee.

The difference in the Dior mid-calf length is enough to look revolutionary—especially as it is combined with an entirely new shape. Saint-Laurent's silhouette is of perfectly rounded, medium fullness caught in with unpressed folds or pleats by a belt a couple of inches below the bustline. It has little or nothing in common with the high-waisted, short-skirted Empire line seen everywhere else this season. It looks as if young Saint-Laurent, having tasted success with his first collection last spring, wants to show who is master of the mode. Applause, which started early in the showing, broke out time and again and swelled to an uproar at the end of the show. The "curve" line appeared first in a suit. The jackets were scooped up in front with the skirts standing off the hips and curving gently in at the midcalf hemline. Cape coats covered matching dresses in the same silhouette but by cocktail clothes time, some skirts had dwindled down to slender tubes ample enough not to touch the body while others swelled out in puff balls. Necklines are so low-scooped that they cut Dior's star mannequin out of the parade. Exotic Alla, watching from the audience, said she was too thin to wear the new decolletage, which is revealing indeed. As one spectator remarked: "If you wear that, you'd better not sneeze."

The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest M. Estes and their four children are touring the New England States for two weeks. While the Rev. Mr. Estes is on vacation, Arien Mills of Saugerties, a lay preacher will conduct the worship services. Mrs. William Haskell had the following guests last week: Mrs. Mary Donovan and Mrs. Amon of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of West Nyack; Mrs. Marie Andrews of Chicago and Mrs. Dale Kelsey of Jersey City, N. J.

Church Services St. Francis de Sales parish, the Rev. John Gorman pastor—Sunday Masses, All Saints 10:15 and 11:15 a. m.; Phoenixia 7:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Pine Hill 9 a. m.; Boiceville 9 a. m.; Lanesville 9 a. m.

New Paltz Board Names Cornwell Village Trustee

Harry Cornwell of Church Street, New Paltz was appointed village trustee early this week to fill the vacancy created by the appointment of Henry DuBois, well known village banker, as mayor. Cornwell was named by a unanimous vote of the board of trustees at the Monday night meeting in the trustees rooms. Retiring mayor Dr. Robert Reid presented the badge of office to the newly appointed mayor, named at last week's meeting, and gave the new executive a copy of Robert's "Rules of Order," and a gavel. Dr. Reid in a brief talk thanked the board for the teamwork displayed during his tenure.

Ohio Pilot Escapes Injury in Troy Mishap

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—The pilot of a single-engine plane escaped injury today when his craft overshot a runway at Troy airport and flipped on its back. Edmund Mooney, 26, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was alone in the two-place plane. He said the wheels skidded on the wet, grass runway. The plane, badly damaged, settled on a slope 30 feet below the edge of the runway. Mooney said he was here on a business trip.

Guests were there from Hewlett and Whitestone, L. I., and New Jersey as well as Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Darvie and Judge and Mrs. William Malloy of Phoenicia. L. DeBon of Mt. Pleasant entertained the guests with some very good yodeling. Saturday, the Methodist Church will have its annual bazaar and food sale on Conway's green. Blimp Is Forced Back Again on North Pole Trip

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A huge Navy blimp attempting a trip to the North Pole was forced to turn back for a second time today by bad weather. The 343-foot Navy exploration blimp carrying 14 crew members and a team of International Geophysical Year scientists ran into bad weather over the Hudson Valley last night, the Navy reported. Lt. Commander Don Collins, ZPGC commander, said much of the ship's fuel was used up battling strong headwinds. He turned the craft toward Lake Erie, where weather conditions were more favorable and then landed at Akron. Another attempt to get the ship aloft will be made as soon as the weather clears, probably tomorrow morning. The ship took off from Lakehurst, N. J., Wednesday. It had landed at Lakehurst after bad weather and fog spoiled the first attempt of the trip north to South Weymouth, Mass., on Sunday. Plans call for the ZPGC to make its first stop at Churchill, Canada, and then on to an ice island known as T3, a floating weather station in the Arctic Ocean. If the expedition is a success, the blimp will be the first Navy airship to fly over the North Pole.

FCC Must Probe Influence Charge In Mass. TV Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today directed the Federal Communications Commission to find out whether improper influence figured in the award of a Channel 5 television permit in Boston. The FCC on April 25, 1957, awarded the permit to WHDH, Inc., owned by the Herald Traveler Corp. Resulting litigation moved the case to the Circuit Court.

Same as Miami

In the Boston case, the appellate court followed the same procedure it used in the Miami Channel 10 case. The Miami award figured prominently in a House investigation of federal regulatory agencies. In returning the Boston case to the FCC, the appellate court noted that former Commissioner Richard A. Mack participated in the case. But the court said the record does not show whether he should have been disqualified. Mack Resigned Mack resigned under fire during the House investigation. That study centered in large part on loans he received from an attorney who had been interested in the application of Public Service Inc., subsidiary of Miami Grant Lines, which won the Miami grant. Mack denied he had been subjected to any improper influence, but said he was quitting because he felt his usefulness on the FCC had been impaired.

Kingston Yanks Top Staatsburg, 4-3 on 2-Run Rally in 8th

Bob Miller Outduels Molinaro in Loop Tilt

A booming triple by Mickey Burkoski in the eighth and an outfield error gave the Kingston Yankees a 4-3 triumph over the Staatsburg Knickerbockers in a New York-New Jersey League game last night at Dietz Stadium.

Burkoski, the Manhattan College ace, who has been finding hits a long time coming in the league, made his only hit in four trips a big one. A blast that landed on the bank in left field, sending John Schoenberger home with the tying run.

The winning run followed when Richie Lease's liner hand-cuffed Tommy Murphy, Knicks' leftfielder, and went for a triple.

It was a tough way for Joe Molinaro, Knicks' fastballer to lose. He didn't deserve that fate. He stood the Yanks on their heads for seven innings with only three hits and holding a 3-2 lead when the roof fell in.

During his eight-inning stint, the Poughkeepsie ace, fanned 11 and gave up four passes. Bob Miller pitched an exceptional game. He had a bad sixth inning when the invaders scored all their runs.

Tom Lent, the league's leading hitter, started the rally with a double down the leftfield line. He advanced on an infield out and dented home on Billy (The Kid) Ostrom's hotshot up the middle. Fran Soychock worked Miller for a walk, and Dick Carpenter jolted the Sal Ciccaro club with a vicious triple in the right-center alley, scoring Ostrom and Soychock.

After that fire was out, Miller managed to stay out of trouble. He fanned four. Lou Arotta had two of Kingston's four hits.

Bob Grim Nips Yanks, 2-0, Gets Rain Assist

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

There it is again. Shunted players coming back to haunt you.

It happened on three occasions Wednesday.

In Kansas City, pitcher Bob Grim, shipped there by New York in a trade last June, gained his first victory for the Athletics. It was against the Yankees. Grim hurled a shutout to boot. He held his former teammate, to three hits in a 2-0 game, shortened to 4½ innings by rain.

In Detroit, right-hander George Sussie, sold by Boston to the Tigers earlier this season, hurled a 2-1 victory against the Red Sox. Sussie gave up seven hits and held Ted Williams hitless.

In Cleveland, triples by ex-Baltimoreans Larry Doby and Billy Hunter figured in the Indians' 2-0 scoring innings as the Tribe defeated the Orioles 6-3. Pinch hitter Doby's three-bagger drove in the first of Cleveland's four runs in the sixth, erasing a 3-0 Baltimore lead. Hunter drove in a run with his seventh-inning triple and he scored on a squeeze bunt.

Chicago climbed into a third-place tie with Baltimore, outlasting Washington 11-9 in a slugfest. Chico Carrasquel's first-inning home run and fourth-inning doubles by Roger Maris and Hal Smith produced the runs which spelled Yankee Don Larsen's fifth defeat against seven victories.

Al Kaline tripled and scored on an infield out as Detroit snapped a 1-1 tie in the eighth. Ike Delock was the loser.

The Indians had tagged Arnold Portocarrero for only one hit before they erupted for their winning four-run margin in the sixth.

Ray Narleski received credit for his 11th triumph. He has lost eight.

The White Sox tallied eight times in the third—but had to halt a Washington comeback by hitting Sena before Eddie Yost, who had a grand-slam homer in the fourth, fled out to end the game. Gerry Staley, who relieved starter Jim Wilson in the fourth, won his fourth.

Boxer Fatally Stabbed by Foe

CEBU CITY, The Philippines (AP)—Boxers Juliana Pasate and Florinto Pacifico fought a draw here last week.

Pasate objected to the decision and Pacifico's tactics. Today the two boxers met at the public market. Pasate knifed his ring opponent, killing him instantly, the Manila Times reported.

Bovelli Pitches, Beardi Slugs for Braves, 16-3 Win

The Braves had an easy time beating the Giants in the Glasco-East Kingston Little League last night, scoring six runs in the fifth to chalk up a 16-3 triumph.

Ed Bovelli limited the losers to four hits, two of which were obtained by Johnny Watzka.

Beardi had four hits in as many trips for the winners.

Canfield Tigers Split Twin-Bill

The Canfield Supply Tigers split a doubleheader in the National Little League losing to the Canfield Electric Braves 13-10 and then walloped the VFW Pirates 14-9.

The Braves scored five times in the last inning to drop the Tigers in a real slugfest. Ed Mills got the win and Dick Schabot was the loser.

Paul Richards had three of the Tigers 10 hits while Larry Guess, Ed Mills, R. Kelder, J. Murphy each had two for the winners.

Roberts Power Aids Crows Win

A seven-run third inning was enough for the Crows as they trounced the Owls, 11-5 in a Jaycee Little League encounter last night at Forsyth Park.

Moore, who relieved Roberts in the third inning got the win for the Crows. Schatzel was the loser.

Roberts had three of the winning team's 10 hits, connecting for a homer and triple.

The batteries:

Crows 117 011—11

Owls 004 100—5

Roberts, Moore and Sheinwald; Surhoff, Schatzel and Leventhal.

Pedersen Blanks Hurley Tigers

Al Pederson pitched the Giants to five-hit 13-0 shutout over the Tigers yesterday in a Town of Hurley Little League contest.

Pederson fanned nine in gaining the win. His mates got six runs off Tiger pitchers Kolodjewski and Tompkins.

Vern Burgher had two hits for the winners, while Jim Bushnell matched that for the Tigers.

So may National Football League opponents if sophomore fullback Jim Brown fulfills the expectations of Cleveland Browns' Coach and General Manager Paul Brown.

Deadline Near for Entries in Rip Van Winkle Bowling Tourney

100% Handicap Attractive to Low Av. Keglers

Entries are coming in for the Rip Van Winkle 100 per cent handicap team bowling tournament to be staged at Ferraro's Bowlerama Aug. 8-10 and Aug. 15-17.

Reta Frederick, tournament chairman, announced today that women bowlers of the No-Can-Do and Friendship Leagues are 90 per cent entered for the classic. Entries close tomorrow.

Proceeds of the tourney will be utilized to bring the 1960 State Women's Bowling classic to Kingston.

Only minimum fees have been set by John Ferraro in an effort to attract a large entry so that any future small fund raising projects may be eliminated.

It was pointed out that the 100 per cent handicap offers an excellent opportunity for the low average teams to be included in the playoffs.

Squad prizes will be offered for high individual triples for each team.

Individual bowlers whose teams are not entered are asked to contact Mrs. Frederick or leave their names at Sangi's or the Bowlerama, so they can be placed.

Afternoon action begins on August 8 and continues through Aug. 10. Evening action resumes Aug. 15 through Aug. 17.

Batavia Moves Up in NY-Penn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Batavia's Indians are moving up the ever-shifting New York-Penn Baseball League ladder.

The Indians tucked away a tidy doubleheader against Elmira Wednesday night to move from sixth to fifth place, only five percentage points from fourth-place Olean.

Batavia won the eight-inning opener 2-1 and with consistent play captured the final 2-0.

Dave Seemann boosted his season's win record to 14 with the shutout. He has lost 8. Geneva Manager Dave Bristol drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer to hand Erie a 7-3 loss—the Sailors' ninth in their last 10 games.

For the Sailors, Art Clessuras singled twice and hit a singleton homer.

Auburn struck down visiting Wellsville 11-3, firing three home runs against the Brave in a sparkling bid to take over second place.

Four-bag hitters were Dick Rubio with one on in the first; Bud Zipfel with one on in the third; and Manager Tom Gott with none on in the fifth.

Marcial Allen answered with a singleton homer in the final frame for Wellsville.

Olean pulled Corning from fourth place with a 7-2 victory over the Red Sox at Olean.

Substitute infielder Jim Guinn accounted for three Oiler runs with a home run and a double.

Newspapers are keeping modern. In 1957, over $87,000,000 was invested by newspapers to improve plants, equipment and product.

Spahn Does It, Beats Dodgers First Since '51

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, after beating the Dodgers Wednesday night for the first time in almost seven years, minimized the conquest saying, "Heck, everybody else has beaten them."

But that was only his first comment in the clubhouse post-mortem following his 4-3 victory that lifted the Milwaukee Braves once more into first place in the National League, one percentage point in front of the San Francisco Giants. He added:

"I'm out to prove just one thing. This is the only club that has an edge over me. They're 24-

14 against me, and it's the only black mark on my record. I want to get even before I quit."

"Last year I won the Cy Young award (for baseball's top pitcher), but even then I wasn't completely satisfied. The only thing I wanted more than ever was to pitch against the Dodgers. That's been a big sore spot with me. If you're considered a good pitcher, you're supposed to be able to pitch against everybody."

Spahn stopped them Wednesday night on six hits, but fell behind in the sixth inning when a pair of errors helped Los Angeles pile up its three runs, two of them unearned. The third run, which gave the Dodgers the lead at the time, was scored as the ball was passed around like a hot potato.

In going the distance, Spahn notched his 13th victory against seven defeats. He struck out seven and walked only two.

Two games are slated in the Third District American Legion Junior Baseball tournament in Dietz Stadium Saturday, starting at 5 p. m.

Albany and Sullivan Counties will clash in the curtain raiser, while the Kingston Post nine and Melvin Rose of Rensselaer will come to grips in the second encounter under the floodlights.

Sunday's schedule calls for the winner of the Kingston-Rensselaer game to meet Schoharie County, at 7 p. m. The following night, the winner of this game takes on the Albany-Sullivan Counties victor for the district championship.

The Kingston aggregation has a start-studded lineup led by former Kingston and Saugerties High School stars. Donny Mormile, Saugerties High pitcher, will team up with Bob Beadle, fireballing Mike Spada, Paul Gardner and Bill Thomas for mound chores.

The rest of the lineup will be selected from Tom Ashdown, John Parete, Bob Short, Rich Sickler, Chick Boice, Walt Harder, Charlie Williams, Tom Gardner and Terry Corkery.

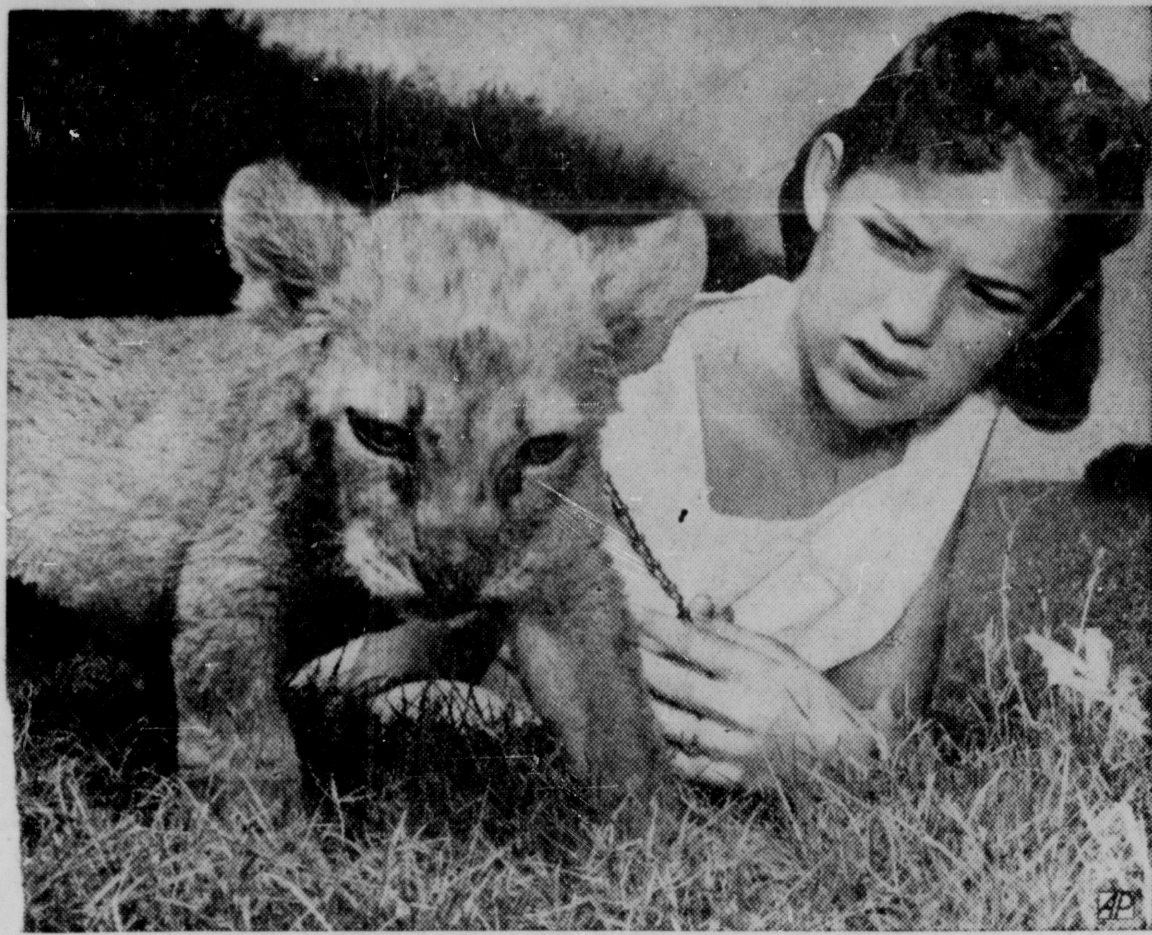

Tommy Maines is manager of the club. Clark Mains and Eddie Bahl will handle the coaching chores.

Bullpen Forte Of I. L. Bisons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Miami Marlins are looking for the secret to Buffalo's success against them in the International League they need look no farther than the Bisons' bullpen.

The man to see out there is relief pitcher Fred Rodriguez. He has taken a personal interest in stifling the Marlins, turning in his second straight night of sparking relief work Wednesday night as Buffalo won 6-5, their second in a row over Miami and 10th in 17 games this year.

Montreal turned on the Columbus Jets for a 10-4 triumph, while Havana defeated Rochester 5-1 and Toronto edged Richmond 8-7 in 12 innings in the first game of a doubleheader. The second was called with the score tied 1-1 in the 10th inning because of the curfew. It will be replayed tonight.

Rodriguez, hero of Tuesday night's Bisons' victory when he came on to stifle a Miami rally and retire eight batters in a row, gave only one hit in 2-1-3 relief innings. He relieved starter Glenn Cox after a three-run homer by Woody Smith cut Buffalo's lead to one run, capping a four-run inning.

Thursday's Schedule
Havana at Rochester, 7:30 p. m.
Miami at Buffalo, 7:30 p. m.
Richmond at Toronto (2), 7 p. m.
Columbus at Montreal, 8 p. m.

Horseshoe Title To Cafe Owner

MURRAY, Utah (AP)—Fernando Isais, Los Angeles cafe owner, Wednesday night won the World's Horseshoe Pitching championship for the eighth time.

Isais dethroned defending champion Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., 50-33 in the final round. This gave Isais 13 victories and no losses in the final round robin. Allen finished 12-1, followed by Don Titcomb of Sunnyvale, Calif., at 10-3.

Purkey, Giants Voodoo Kid, Racks Up 11th

CINCINNATI (AP)—It isn't likely Bob Purkey ever will make baseball's Hall of Fame but he probably would if he could devote all his talents to pitching against the Giants—whether their first name be New York or San Francisco.

Purkey, who never has had more than a mediocre record until this year, now has allowed the Giants only one run in 51 innings since May 7, 1957.

They got that one run Wednesday night to break a string of 46 scoreless innings against Purkey but his Cincinnati Redleg teammates went on for a 5-1 victory. The defeat was doubly hard for the Giants to take because it knocked them out of first place in the National League by one percentage point.

To add insult to injury, Purkey, who never has been known as a hitter, rapped out a single with the bases loaded in the eighth inning to drive in two runs that helped lock up his 13th pitching victory of the season against 6 defeats.

Sedleky Leads National Skeet

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Ken Sedleky, 16, Baldwin, Mich., was leading today in the overall National Skeet Championship with only one more event to go.

After three events in the championship, Sedleky had a total of 292 x 300 in the national shoot. Defending champion Alex Kerr of Beverly Hills, Calif., is tied for third with 289 x 300. The final event in the championship, 250 targets in the 12 gauge division, will be held today, Friday and Saturday.

Isaac 3-Hits Eastern Grays

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Allentown's Johnny Isaac hurled a three-hitter Wednesday night to shut out the Williamsport Grays while his teammates pounded out 13 hits for an 11-0 victory.

Don Gile, currently leading the Eastern League in home runs, clouted his 17th to account for two of the Red Sox runs.

It was Isaac's second straight shutout as a starter. He held York to four hits in a 2-0 victory his last time out. Isaac gave up a pair of doubles and a single last night but not a Williamsport player got beyond second base.

Binghamton came up with seven hits for five runs in the lucky seventh inning to defeat Lancaster, 7-3.

Reading made it two straight over Albany, 4-3, on a double steal in the eighth. Cooter Jones, who had walked, and gone to third on Stan Turner's single, raced home on the front end of the double steal with the winning run.

Walt Matthews was the big batter for York in a 4-1 victory over Springfield. His fifth inning homer opened the scoring and a single in the seventh started a rally that produced the club's other three runs.

Senators End Sports Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators exploring the business aspects of professional sports wind up their hearings today with testimony from Maurice Podoloff, president of the National Basketball Assn.

Reps. Orrin Harris (D-Ark.) and Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) also may appear before the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee to support a House-passed sports bill.

Podoloff was expected to tell the senators pro basketball would welcome the flat exemptions from ordinary business laws proposed in the House measure for professional team sports.

Clarence A. Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, spoke on behalf of the bill Wednesday. President Walter J. Michael and attorneys for the U.S. Trotting Assn. asked that harness racing also be cut in on the exemptions.

Historic Saratoga Opens 24-Day Stay

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Tradition steeped Saratoga, where horse racing loses some of its business-like atmosphere and becomes a pastime, opened a 24-day meeting today at the ancient track out on Union Avenue.

Since Civil War days the horses have appeared at the upstate spa every August. That is, they have except for three years during the second world war, when travel restrictions closed down the historic plant at Saratoga Springs.

Many of the great turf champions of the past have had their coming out parties at Saratoga. Millions of dollars have been gambled on the selection of good horses at the yearling auction sales held at night during the month.

Saratoga has lost some of the color which cloaked it in the days when the rambling hotels lined the main street, the elite of society took up residence in the town for the month of racing and one could gamble on the horses in the afternoon and at the gaming tables by night.

But horses still are the lure. There are some 2,000 quartered at the track. The best known is probably the Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler. He's eligible for Saturday's running of the Whitney at a mile and one-eighth. But trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons may decide to let his ace pass this one for a much deserved rest.

Nine of the stakes, starting with today's $15,000 added Flash, are for 2-year-olds. Richest is the $30,000 added Hopeful on Aug. 23. Three-year-olds get their chance at the big money in the $40,000 added Travers on Aug. 9. It's the oldest race on the American turf and was run for the first time in 1864—the year the track opened.

The richest prize for the thoroughbreds is the $50,000 Saratoga handicap at a mile and one-quarter Aug. 16.

Favorite Loses In Junior Golf

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—When young America plays golf for keeps strange things happen and reputations, built hastily, die even faster.

There was heartache, 34 putts by one player over a 15-hole stretch, and the upset of a prime favorite in Wednesday's opening round of the U.S.G.A.'s Junior tournament at University of Minnesota course.

Today the surviving 64 youths, 17 and under, move into two more elimination rounds which will reduce the field to 16 by sundown.

One of the not-so-happy of the 64 was Sonny Methvin of Little Rock, Ark., a semifinalist in 1957.

Jack Lotz of San Lorenzo, Calif., beat him in the first round 2 up, even after taking a triple bogey 7 on the first hole.

Rick Casabella of Louisville, Ky., also a semifinalist last year, solved some early troubles and defeated Bobby Morse of Peabody, Mass., 4 and 3.

The puttering golfer on the first day was Dick Funk of Decatur, Ill., who 3-putted four greens on the front nine, ran up 21 putts over that stretch and took 13 more before Steve Cary of Lewiston, N.Y., closed him out 5 and 3 on the 15th.

Equally tormented was Seattle's Bill Tindall, who built a 3-hole lead after nine holes and then saw Bill Lovett of Portland, Ore., win 7 of the next 8 holes for a 3 and 1 victory.

Choice: Money or Soil
GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Everett H. Ormsbee, 86, who operates a pear orchard in western Colorado, says he went into farming because he preferred the feel of the soil to the feel of money. He was working in a bank at Harvard, Neb., 61 years ago when he had a chance to buy a farm. Nine years later he moved to the Grand Junction area. Ormsbee was the oldest delegate at the 1958 convention of the Rocky Mountain Farmers Union in Denver.

Spider Webb Stops Suzina

NEW YORK (AP)—A week ago Spider Webb was a 173-pound fisherman on vacation. Wednesday night he was a sharp-punching 162½-pounder who stopped Germany's Franz Suzina on a technical knockout in 1:20 of the seventh round at Madison Square Garden.

As a result of this quick switch, the high-ranked Chicago fighter now is in line for a Sept. 17 benefit show in Pittsburgh with Joey Giardello. He also has an offer for an early September match in Salt Lake City with Gene Fullmer, the ex-champ for whom he substituted against Suzina.

Suzina, a compact 161½-pounder, was beginning to come on when Webb quickly decided to end things in the seventh round. A short chopping right started the German on the way and Webb drove home 12 straight punches before Referee Harry Kessler stepped between them.

"I got careless," said the German.

The Spider now has a fine 29-3 record with 13 knockouts. He never has been stopped.

Over $200 Missing From Gas Station Safe on Thruway

More than $200 has been reported missing in petty cash from a safe in the Texaco gas station on the Thruway, Ruby, under peculiar circumstances.

The bag of cash—$203.56 in small bills and coins—was reportedly counted and placed in the Mosler safe by an assistant manager of the station, Melvin Howard of Saugerties. This was about 2:35 p. m.

At 3:05 the next assistant manager relieving Howard, reported to state police that he found the safe unlocked and the money missing. This was Queen Stafford of Mt. Marion. and some time during the 30-minute period between 2:35 p. m. and 3:05 p. m. the bag of money was removed from the safe.

The burglary is still under investigation by Cpl. Edward Shannon, BCI, of the Kingston state police.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran and Pakistan today took the lead among the Baghdad Pact allies in recognizing the new government in Iraq.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman announced the government's decision to inform the leaders of the revolt which overthrew King Faisal's government July 14 that Iraq regards them as Iraq's legal rulers.

Pakistan announced it would take the same step. Britain, Turkey and the United States were heading in the same direction as the result of consultations with Pakistan and Iran at this week's Baghdad Pact meeting.

The Soviet Union, Communist China, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and Poland recognized the new government shortly after the revolt.

Third Aqua-Nite Is Slated Aug. 9 At Schroon Lake

The Adirondack resort community of Schroon Lake will present the third enactment of its annual water-borne historical pageant, "Aqua-Nite," on Saturday evening, August 9. The scenes of the pageant will be staged on floats in front of the town beach.

The theme of this year's show is "Was It Work or Was It Play?" a question relating to the pioneer days of the area's first settlers. The life of those times is depicted as it was recorded in the diary of a real-life housewife who came to Schroon Lake in 1820.

The pageant begins with the building of the cabin of the pioneer family. Other scenes depict red-letter days in the life of the pioneer family—maple sugaring, a corn husking bee, hunting and fishing, the visit of a medicine show, the call of a circuit-riding preacher, Politics of the 1840 Harrison-Van Buren campaign is featured in a torchlight parade. The final scene is a singing school.

The pageant will be followed by a fireworks display from a barge anchored in the lake. The Granville band will play before and after the pageant.

No admission fee. The pageant will be postponed until the following day, Sunday, August 10.

Lebanon Scene 'Improved,' Is Murphy Report

JERUSALEM (AP)—U.S. trouble shooter Robert Murphy arrived in Israel today and said the situation in Lebanon is "greatly improved."

"I am hopeful for the future," the American diplomat said, adding that the situation in Jordan is "tending to stabilize but I personally would say so with a bit of reserve."

Other arrivals from Jordan said the situation in King Hussein's kingdom was tense and that arrests of numerous supporters of U.A.R. President Nasser were continuing.

Murphy came to Israel after an overnight stay in Jordan during which he discussed the Middle East situation for 2½ hours with Hussein.

Murphy planned to fly back to Beirut tonight after meeting Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion in Tel Aviv.

Caged Leopard Claws Girl, 6, Condition Serious

PERU, Ill. (AP)—For little Patricia Kenney the exciting trip to see the clumsy circus elephants turned into a moment of pain and horror as a snarling leopard swiped out with a paw and dragged the screaming girl to its barred cage.

"I just saw this paw come out and catch the little girl," related Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald, who took Patricia, 6, and seven of her chums to the circus grounds Tuesday.

Heard Screams

"Then I heard her scream. It was terrible. That awful cat could have got any of them."

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kenney of nearby Utica, was reported in serious condition in a Peru hospital. Sixty stitches were required to close lacerations in her leg.

Mrs. Fitzgerald told this story: She was driving her son Thomas, 8, Patricia and six other neighborhood children home from a swimming lesson when they decided to stop at a circus sponsored by the Peru American Legion.

Stopped to Gaze

"The kids wanted to see the elephants and walk through an unused circus ring surrounded by a high canvas wall," she said.

Mrs. Fitzgerald said that while she drove the car to the other side of the ring the children stopped to gaze at a cage with eight leopards. She returned in time to witness the attack.

"There were no ropes or anybody around the cage when the kids walked up to it. I just saw this paw come out and catch the little girl. Then I heard her scream. It was terrible. I froze. The other children were crying."

"The thing tore her shoe off. She was conscious all the time. A man came running when he heard Patricia scream, but he had to run 300 feet. He tried to beat the cats off from outside the cage, but couldn't. Then another man ran up, went inside the cage and drove the cats away by beating them over the head with a chair."

Police later identified the first man as Jack Mann, an attendant. Animal trainer Jack Harkness entered the cage and fended off the beasts.

Police said Joe Cuno, owner of the animal act, insisted that ropes had been strung around the cage to keep the public away.

Phone Boost Approved

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Ontario Telephone Co. has state approval to boost its rates by $9,500 a year, effective Friday.

The Public Service Commission, in announcing its approval Wednesday, said the company would use the extra revenue to offset an $18,000 annual increase in operating costs.

Ontario Telephone serves about 2,350 subscribers in parts of Ontario and Seneca counties.

Charges for home phones will be increased by amounts ranging from 35 to 75 cents a month. Business phone rates will be boosted by either 50 cents or $1 a month.

Ave Urges Backing For More Welfare Aid

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov.

Harriman urged New York's congressional delegation today to support measures that would boost social security payments and provide more federal aid for local welfare programs.

In telegrams to the congressmen, Harriman said the proposed seven per cent increase in social security payments was much needed and long overdue.

With the cost of living at record levels, the difficulties of those dependent on such payments "have become increasingly serious," Harriman said.

The legislation would give New York State about 17 million dollars to use in welfare programs for the aged, the disabled and blind, and dependent children. Both the state and local communities would share this money.

Fonda Boy Drowns

SPECULATOR, N. Y. (AP)—A nine-year-old boy, one of a group being given swimming lessons, was drowned Wednesday in Lake Pleasant.

State Police said Thomas D. Deckro, son of Floyd Deckro of Fonda, was taking the lessons with several boys from a camp when he went under, unnoticed.

A life guard conducting the class spotted Thomas floating, troopers said, and pulled him to the shore,

Return of Cash Brings Demand for Probe in Hornell

HORNELL, N. Y. (AP) — The

mysterious reappearance of $500 in cash at police headquarters here has touched off a demand for a state investigation of the city's government.

The cash was bail money that police said had been missing from a locked box at the station for over a week.

The money was found Wednesday under the seat of a patrol car by a patrolman sweeping out the inside.

An investigation was announced Monday but no arrests have yet been made.

Meanwhile, George Hussong, Democratic councilman, said he had asked Gov. Harriman to investigate the city government.

The Democrats control the council 7-5 but the administration is Republican.

Hussong said he wanted such a probe either to "give Hornell a clean bill of health or result in an ultimatum to clean up."

The governor's office in Albany said Wednesday night it had not yet received the request but said it would probably be referred to the governor's counsel when it arrived.

at Moffitt Beach. He was taken to a hospital in Gloversville in an attempt to revive him.

Every Home

has a place for FORMICA on the walls
Your old friend... FORMICA... is really getting around these days. It came out of the kitchen to enhance the beauty and utility of the bathroom and furniture. Now... Formica has taken to the walls in living room and all around the house.

Beautiful, natural wood grain patterns give a luxurious and expensive look to walls... provide a durable, care-free surface that needs only wiping off for care.

Formica can be installed in standard sheet widths... or interesting plank or block designs can be worked out.
